Big Three Study Soviet Plan To Establish Air Corridor

Berlin, April 11 (AP)—America, Britain and France are giving "serious consideration" to a Russian plan for ending cold war plane incidents by establishing one big air corridor to Berlin, allied officials said today.

A three-part Soviet proposal submitted by Air Force Lt. Gen. I. D. Podgorny here last Tuesday is now being studied by government experts in Washington, London and Paris.

The west's answer may be ready next week.

The Soviet plan, developed after two MIG jet fighters shot down a British bomber on the east-west interzonal frontier March 12 and killed all seven crewmen, includes these points:

1. One big corridor, 90 kilometers (56 miles) wide at its narrowest point. It would be run between Hannover and Berlin for all western air traffic with this isolated city and would replace three corridors each 20 miles wide. These have connected Berlin with Hamburg, Bueckeburg, and Fulda in West Germany since the end of the war.
2. Allied military aircraft of any type would be permitted to fly in the big corridor—if they are unarmed. But all armed allied planes would be banned.
3. Routine flying in the big corridor would be at altitudes between 1,000 and 5,000 feet, compared to altitudes up to 7,500 feet now generally used in the small corridors.

The Soviet plan apparently has impressed allied air force officers as containing helpful measures for bringing new safety and order to Berlin's air traffic.

But it is being carefully studied from all possible angles, for the security of 2,000,000 anti-Communist West Berliners fundamentally

Hits Lack of Business Handling by Military Resulting in Big Supply Shortage

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) predicted today the entire management set-up in the armed services will be overhauled as a result of a Senate investigation of ammunition shortages in Korea.

The Virginian said the ammunition inquiry has revealed an unbelievable lack of good business management.

"I intend to follow this thing through and see that it is done," Byrd said. Then he added with a grin: "And I think everybody knows I'm not accustomed to starting something I don't finish."

He said he was convinced businessmen should be put in charge of handling military contracts and deliveries of goods. The military would still have the right to "say what they need," he added.

ROKs Are Pushed Off Texas Hill By 2 Red Outfits

Constitutes Only Major Action Along Front —B29s Fire Big Supply Dump

Seoul, April 11 (AP)—Two Chinese Communist companies, about 350 men, today drove South Korean infantrymen off Texas Hill, a shell-pitted 2,000 foot central Korean peak which has changed hands nine times in the past week.

The ROKs hurled two counterattacks against the hill after dawn but both were beaten back, an Eighth Army briefing officer said. The second attack carried the South Koreans to the top of the hill, but 15 minutes later they were forced to pull back.

The Chinese attacked with burp guns, hand grenades, mortar and artillery less than 12 hours after losing the hill in the furious saw battle which has raged almost continuously since Sunday.

Only Major Action

The Texas Hill fight was the only major action along the 155-mile battle front as negotiators in Panmunjon signed an agreement for exchanging sick and wounded prisoners which could pave the way to a Korean truce.

Friday night, B-29s from Okinawa bombed a 115-acre Communist supply dump near Sinanju, leaving it a mass of flames. The dump had been left untouched for weeks while the Reds stocked it with valuable war materiel.

Hall Scores Left Wings For Attack

GOP National Chairman Says No 'Miracles' to Be Expected of His Leadership

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall was at war today with "left wingers" he said are firing at President Eisenhower and Congress as a prelude to next year's congressional election battle.

Hall, unanimously elected chairman of the GOP Committee yesterday to succeed C. Wesley Roberts who resigned, told his party colleagues not to expect any "overnight miracles."

It will take a long time, the new chairman said, to bring the Eisenhower program into being, and establish the Republicans as a true majority party that can elect a president in 1956—preferably Eisenhower again.

Words to Committee

Without making it clear whether he was talking exclusively about Democrats or also about some Republicans, Hall told the National Committee:

"The left wing has only begun to snipe at him (Eisenhower), to take pot shots at Congress and to insinuate its deadly philosophy of defeatism into the American life again. No, the left wing has not been vanquished. It has only lost a battle."

"It will use every technique at its command—misrepresentation, infiltration, penetration, deception and distortion to have its way."

Eisenhower, who chatted briefly with the committee members at the White House, had preserved public silence throughout the selection of Hall, boomed primarily by House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts. But it was common knowledge that Hall had been suggested as a competent man by the President, with whom he traveled during last year's presidential campaign.

Protest Ineffective

Some westerners protested ineffectively against the choice of a New Yorker, but they agreed to the President's views.

Hall, 52, served 14 years in Congress and is a former chairman of the GOP congressional campaign committee, which assists the election of Republican House members.

Instead of campaigning for reelection last fall, he sought and won election as a surrogate, or judge of wills, in Nassau county, Long Island. He said he will quit this $25,000 a year job and will take no salary as GOP chairman, relying for income on his law firm at Oyster Bay, N. Y.

Roberts was paid at the rate of $32,500 a year for the less than three months he was chairman. He resigned after a Kansas legislative committee ruled he violated at least the spirit of the state anti-bribery law in helping to sell a hospital to the state.

No Party or U. S. Job

Roberts had no party or government job at the time, he denied any wrongdoing, blamed the incident on factional difficulties, but said he felt his activities as party chairman were impaired.

The committee and individual members expressed strong belief in Roberts' integrity in accepting his resignation.

The Democratic National Committee released, coincident with Hall's election, what it called a "full account of head-on conflicts" between Eisenhower's views and Hall's voting in Congress. Cited particularly was a vote last year for a two billion dollar cut in foreign aid after Eisenhower had said a reduction of more than one billion might endanger essential defense preparations in Europe.

Hall, 52, is a former chairman of the Miss Bertha B. Adkins as assistant chairman and director of the woman's division. He said he has named Mrs. Edna Basten Donald of Grand Island, Neb., as vice chairman.

He also announced three specialists will look over the committee and suggest reorganization plans. He named them as Harry Hoagland of Boston, assistant secretary-treasurer of the American Research and Development Corp.; David A. Baumhart of Vermillion, Ohio, executive of the Owens-Corning Fiber Glass Corp.; and William J. Casey, New York city lawyer.

The new chairman indicated he will employ Robert Humphreys, who has been serving House Republicans as a public relations advisor, in the job of national publicity director.

Business Outlook Called Good; No Depression Seen

Holy Cross Order Has Oil Well of 186-Barrel Output

West Park Monastery Is Headquarters of No. 1 in Kansas Under Term of Will

Hays, Kas., April 11 (AP)—The Episcopal order of Holy Cross, headquarters at West Park, N. Y., has a new 186-barrel oil well—the opener of a new Kansas oil field.

The well made its daily potential on a state-conducted pump test. Producing from Lansing-Kansas City limestone a depth of 3,423 to 3,445 feet, it opens a field bearing the order's name—Holy Cross.

Located in the southwest corner of section 26-12-18W, about eight miles northwest of this city of nearly 10,000 population, the well is the No. 1 Holy Cross, drilled by Carl Leback, Hays operator.

It is three-fourths of a mile southwest of nearest previous production, in the Jensen field.

The land originally was owned by the H. J. Putnam Investment Co., Salina, Kas. After Putnam's death, it was deeded to C. A. Abercrombie, of Salina, who in turn deeded it to the Episcopal order.

Abercrombie reserved the income from the land to Putnam's widow. At her death, 15 years ago, the full property rights passed to the church order.

Carrier Boys Are Eligible for State Workmen Benefits

Albany, April 11 (AP)—Gov. Dewey's office announced today that the governor had signed a bill making newspaper carrier boys eligible for Workmen's Compensation.

The law, which is effective next July 1, also raises from 12 to 14 the minimum age for boys selling newspapers on the streets. Street salesboys, however, are not eligible for Workmen's Compensation.

The law does not change the present minimum age of 12 for carriers delivering to home subscribers.

Dewey signed the bill without comment. Last year he vetoed a similar bill because it specified that a carrier boy was an "independent contractor" and thus was not eligible for Workmen's Compensation and other benefits.

The new law specifies that carrier boys will be considered "employees" solely for the purpose of the compensation provision. No mention is made of independent contractors.

The bill was sponsored by the New York State Publishers Association and the New York State Circulation Managers Association.

Amsterdam Price Increases

Amsterdam, April 11 (AP)—The Amsterdam Recorder, an afternoon newspaper, announced today its street sale price would be raised from five to seven cents, as of April 13. The home delivery cost will go from 30 to 40 cents a week. William J. Kline and Son, Inc., the publisher, said the "tremendous increase" in production costs necessitated the move.

Price Controls End

Hong Kong, April 11 (AP)—This British crown colony scrapped price controls on food yesterday after 7½ years, but there was no noticeable increase during the first 24 hours. The government has predicted that if prices move at all it will be downward.

Governors Are Invited

Williams Distrusts Peace Will Be Calamity to U.S. Trade

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Economic advisers to Congress say the business outlook is good—even though the stock market took fright at the prospect of a truce in Korea.

A study by the staff of the Senate-House Economic Committee, made public yesterday, said there was danger a truce might produce an "unjustified psychological reaction" which could lead to a depression.

In similar terms, Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams declared in a speech in New York Wednesday that there is no reason to be "panicky about peace in Korea x x x as if that very fact was a calamity in itself."

Must Keep Faith

The congressional staff analysis said that, unless the public kept its confidence in the economy, it was "conceivable although not warranted" that there might develop "the reverse of the business and consumer buying wave" which followed outbreak of the Korea fighting in mid-1950. They suggested one Communist objective in seeking a truce might be to cause a U. S. depression.

The economists said a truce will not automatically bring marked changes in federal programs. Among factors to bolster the economy they listed:

Plans for increases in spending for plants, lack of excess capacity in important industries, continued demand for housing, apparently reasonable inventories, plenty of liquid savings, stable prices, prospects for increased consumer income and probable tax reductions.

Forecast Is 'Good'

"In spite of the bearishness of the stock market over the possibility of a Korean truce, the present outlook for private business activity, and continued high levels of production and employment remains good," the economists asserted.

News from Korea set off a wave of selling in the stock market last week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $3.50—the biggest slump since the week the Korean war started in 1950.

But there were signs of downward pressure easing off a bit. This week the decline amounted to $1.70, or less than half of last week's rate. After taking a heavy beating Monday, the market staged a partial comeback the next two days. On Thursday and Friday it dropped somewhat but not in a manner to indicate heavy selling.

Firemen Answer Call

The Kingston Fire Department answered a call at 8:45 a. m. today to the home of Kenneth Dyon, 10 Snyder street, where a space heater was reported out of adjustment. Engine 3 and Truck 2 from Wiltwyck station responded. No fire damage was reported.

Russia Will Help to Free 13 U.S. Civilians in Korea

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Russia has promised the U. S. State Department to use its good offices to help obtain release of 13 Americans seized by Communists in North Korea.

The department said yesterday the embassy in Moscow had been notified the U.S.S.R. would act in response to an appeal from U. S. Minister Jacob Beam.

The Americans, missing since the outbreak of the Korean war, include five Methodist missionaries, two government employees and two private citizens who were in Korea on business.

North Korean authorities have said they hold only seven of the Americans and do not know the whereabouts of the other six.

Russia already has helped arrange release of British and French civilians held in North Korea or Communist China. The actions apparently are keyed to the current Soviet peace offensive.

Wariness Is Shown By U. S. Officials as Pact Is Signed

Pravda Has Statement Regarding Agreement —Senators Laud Exchange

Washington, April 11 (AP)—American officials were hopeful but wary in reacting today to the signing of the agreement at Panmunjon to exchange ailing prisoners of the war in Korea.

The news caught most of the House members out of town on an Easter holiday that ends Monday. Representatives and senators who were reached expressed cautious comment pending a chance to study the agreement.

They said there was still a chance for a hitch to develop but suggested that, more than ever, it looks as if the Communists are ready to exchange all prisoners and to bring about an armistice.

Riot Begins At Stillwater

Stillwater, Minn. (AP)—Rioting broke out in Stillwater prison shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Prisoners began smashing windows in the north cell block of the big prison.

Eating utensils were thrown by the screaming convicts into the prison yard.

Acting Warden Carl Jackson said a wave of "growing arrogance" was sweeping through the 1,000 convicts.

All of the prisoners were locked in their cells earlier this morning when prison officials learned through the "grapevine" that the convicts were planning their third sitdown strike since Tuesday.

The prisoners refused to work Tuesday and Wednesday, demanding the ouster of the prison chief. They claimed liver patties served to them at their Tuesday noon meal were "green and rotten."

The chief was transferred to another state institution Wednesday night.

Jailer Earlfallom, director of state institutions, told newsmen before the rioting broke out that it would be better to have any disturbance "in the cells where damage would be minor, than in the shops where damage could amount to millions of dollars."

April 21 Is Deadline

The exchange must be completed within 20 days after it starts. It must begin not later than April 21 and can start earlier.

Besides the 120 Americans, there are 20 British, 15 Canadians, 10 Greeks and Dutch and about 450 South Koreans in the group the Communists will release.

The allies will give up 5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese at the rate of 500 daily. The Communist rate will be 100 men daily.

The UN command is exchanging almost 10 prisoners for each one returned by the Communists principally because the allies hold many times more prisoners. In addition, many Chinese and North Koreans POWs are suffering from tuberculosis and are qualified for exchange as sick and wounded.

Reds Have 13,000 POWs

The Communists have said they hold approximately 13,000 prisoners, including 3,198 Americans. The UN holds about 132,000 North Koreans and Chinese Reds.

Observers at this advance UN camp were openly hopeful that completion of the sick and wounded exchange agreement will lead to a truce in Korea. They pointed out that if both sides could agree on ten points for exchanging disabled captives in less than four hours of conference time, they should be able to agree on the remaining eight paragraphs of the armistice draft.

Officials agreed that Red peace overtures should be studied carefully. But they also agreed that if the Communists sincerely want an armistice they will get one.

Return May Begin Less Than Week

Enemy Seems Impatient as Regards Renewed Negotiations Leading to Armistice

Munsan, April 11 (AP)—The allies and Communists today signed an historic agreement for the first formal exchange of disabled captives of the Korean war and the Reds pressed impatiently for a quick renewal of the full-scale armistice negotiations.

The Communists agreed to return 600 sick and wounded prisoners including 120 Americans and the allies pledged to give up 5,800 North Koreans and Chinese.

The first of these may begin the journey home as early as next Wednesday.

The agreement may have paved the way for armistice in Korea. The truce talks have been deadlocked for a year and suspended since Oct. 8 over the last big issue of exchanging war prisoners.

The Reds had insisted on the return of all their captured soldiers. The allies refused to return anyone to Communist rule against his will.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho told the allied liaison team: "Our side considers that the plenary session of the delegations of both sides should be resumed immediately to discuss and settle the entire question of prisoners of war so as to realize an armistice in Korea."

U. S. Rear Adm. John C. Daniel said the UN command in Tokyo would give an answer.

Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, already has said the truce talks can be resumed after settlement of the disabled prisoner exchange.

Exchange Big Problem Now

But the exchange of sick and wounded captives, some of them undoubtedly prisoners since the first days of the Korean war nearly three years ago, was the big job for the moment.

American engineers raced a deadline to complete roads and camps within the receiving zone at Panmunjon before Tuesday. Doctors, nurses and corpsmen waited eagerly 10 miles away at Munsan's freedom gate for the influx of disabled allies.

Scores of helicopters and ambulances were readied for the job of transporting them.

Most of the allied sick and wounded will be rushed to their homes by plane immediately after they cross the line if they are able to travel. The others will be taken to hospitals in Japan. The Americans among the latter will go to Tokyo and Yokohama.

April 21 Is Deadline

The exchange must be completed within 20 days after it starts. It must begin not later than April 21 and can start earlier.

Amsterdam Price Increases

Amsterdam, April 11 (AP)—The Amsterdam Recorder, an afternoon newspaper, announced today its street sale price would be raised from five to seven cents, as of April 13. The home delivery cost will go from 30 to 40 cents a week. William J. Kline and Son, Inc., the publisher, said the "tremendous increase" in production costs necessitated the move.

Price Controls End

Hong Kong, April 11 (AP)—This British crown colony scrapped price controls on food yesterday after 7½ years, but there was no noticeable increase during the first 24 hours. The government has predicted that if prices move at all it will be downward.

Governors Are Invited

Washington, April 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower has invited the 48 state governors to a White House conference May 4 and 5 to give them a confidential "first hand picture of the present state of the world and the role of the United States in it."

Business Outlook Called Good; No Depression Seen

Holy Cross Order Has Oil Well of 186-Barrel Output

West Park Monastery Is Headquarters of No. 1 in Kansas Under Term of Will

Hays, Kas., April 11 (AP)—The Episcopal order of Holy Cross, headquarters at West Park, N. Y., has a new 186-barrel oil well—the opener of a new Kansas oil field.

The well made its daily potential on a state-conducted pump test. Producing from Lansing-Kansas City limestone a depth of 3,423 to 3,445 feet, it opens a field bearing the order's name—Holy Cross.

Located in the southwest corner of section 26-12-18W, about eight miles northwest of this city of nearly 10,000 population, the well is the No. 1 Holy Cross, drilled by Carl Leback, Hays operator.

It is three-fourths of a mile southwest of nearest previous production, in the Jensen field.

The land originally was owned by the H. J. Putnam Investment Co., Salina, Kas. After Putnam's death, it was bequeathed to C. A. Abercrombie of Salina, who in turn deeded it to the Episcopal order.

Abercrombie reserved the income from the land to Putnam's widow. At her death, 15 years ago, the full property rights passed to the church order.

Carrier Boys Are Eligible for State Workmen Benefits

Albany, April 11 (AP)—Gov. Dewey's office announced today that the governor had signed a bill making newspaper carrier boys eligible for Workmen's Compensation.

The law, which is effective next July 1, also raises from 12 to 14 the minimum age for boys selling newspapers on the streets. Street salesboys, however, are not eligible for Workmen's Compensation.

The law does not change the present minimum age of 12 for carriers delivering to home subscribers.

Dewey signed the bill without comment. Last year he vetoed a similar bill because it specified that a carrier boy was an "independent contractor" and thus was not eligible for Workmen's Compensation and other benefits.

The new law specifies that carrier boys will be considered "employees" solely for the purpose of the compensation provision. No mention is made of independent contractors.

The bill was sponsored by the New York State Publishers Association and the New York State Circulation Managers Association.

Tickets will be available at the door. Proceeds from the dance will be used for the Auxiliary's pledge to the hospital.

Wariness Is Shown By U. S. Officials as Pact Is Signed

Pravda Has Statement Regarding Agreement —Senators Laud Exchange

Washington, April 11 (AP)—American officials were hopeful but wary in reacting today to the signing of the agreement at Panmunjom to exchange ailing prisoners of the war in Korea.

The news caught most of the House members out of town on an Easter holiday that ends Monday. Representatives and senators who were reached expressed cautious comment pending a chance to study the agreement.

They said there was still a chance for a hitch to develop but suggested that, more than ever, it looks as if the Communists are ready to exchange all prisoners and to bring about an armistice.

Riot Begins At Stillwater

Stillwater, Minn. (AP)—Rioting broke out in Stillwater prison shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Prisoners began smashing windows in the north cell block of the big prison.

Eating utensils were thrown by the screaming convicts into the prison yard.

Acting Warden Carl Jackson said a wave of "growing arrogance" was sweeping through the 1,000 convicts.

All of the prisoners were locked in their cells earlier this morning, when prison officials learned through the "grapevine" that the convicts were planning their third sitdown strike since Tuesday.

The prisoners refused to work Tuesday and Wednesday, demanding the ouster of the prison chief. They claimed liver patties served to them at their Tuesday noon meal were "green and rotten."

The chef was transferred to another state institution Wednesday night.

Jaler Leirfallom, director of state institutions, told newsmen before the rioting broke out that it would be better to have any disturbance "in the cells where damage would be minor, than in the shops where damage could amount to millions of dollars."

April 21 Is Deadline

The exchange must be completed within 20 days after it starts. It must begin not later than April 21 and can start earlier.

Besides the 120 Americans, there are 20 British, 15 Canadians, Turks, Greeks and Dutch and about 450 South Koreans in the group the Communists will release.

The allies will give up 5,100 North Koreans and 700 Chinese at the rate of 500 daily. The Communist rate will be 100 men daily.

The UN command is exchanging almost 10 prisoners for each one returned by the Communists principally because the allies hold many times more prisoners. In addition, many Chinese and North Koreans POWs are suffering from tuberculosis and are qualified for exchange as sick and wounded.

Reds Have 13,000 POWs

The Communists have said they hold approximately 13,000 prisoners, including 3,198 Americans. The UN holds about 132,000 North Koreans and Chinese Reds.

Observers at this advance UN camp were openly hopeful that completion of the sick and wounded exchange agreement will lead to a truce in Korea. They pointed out that if both sides could agree on ten points for exchanging disabled captives in less than four hours of conference time, they should be able to agree on the remaining eight paragraphs of the armistice draft.

Officials agreed that Red peace overtures should be studied carefully. But they also agreed that if the Communists sincerely want an armistice they will get one.

Not a word was spoken during the signing.

Return May Begin Less Than Week

Enemy Seems Impatient as Regards Renewed Negotiations Leading to Armistice

Munsan, April 11 (AP)—The allies and Communists today signed an historic agreement for the first formal exchange of disabled captives of the Korean war and the Reds pressed impatiently for a quick renewal of the full-scale armistice negotiations.

The Communists agreed to return 600 sick and wounded prisoners including 120 Americans and the allies pledged to give up 5,800 North Koreans and Chinese.

The first of these may begin the journey home as early as next Wednesday.

The agreement may have paved the way for armistice in Korea. The truce talks have been deadlocked for a year and suspended since Oct. 8 over the last big issue of exchanging war prisoners.

The Reds had insisted on the return of all their captured soldiers. The allies refused to return anyone to Communist rule against his will.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho told the allied liaison team:

"Our side considers that the plenary session of the delegations of both sides should be resumed immediately to discuss and settle the entire question of prisoners of war so as to realize an armistice in Korea."

U. S. Rear Adm. John C. Daniel said the UN command in Tokyo would give an answer.

Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, already has said the truce talks can be resumed after exchange of the disabled prisoner exchange.

Exchange Big Problem Now

But the exchange of sick and wounded captives, some of them undoubtedly prisoners since the first days of the Korean war nearly three years ago, was the big job for the moment.

American engineers raced a deadline to complete roads and camps within the receiving zone at Panmunjom before Tuesday. Doctors, nurses and corpsmen waited eagerly 10 miles away at Munsan's freedom gate for the influx of disabled allies.

Scores of helicopters and ambulances were readied for the job of transporting them.

Most of the allies sick and wounded will be rushed to their homes by plane immediately after they cross the line, if they are able to travel. The others will be taken to hospitals in Japan. The Americans among the latter will go to Tokyo and Yokohama.

Cardinal Urges All to Support Charities Drive

Expressing gratitude for the past generosity of the people of New York his Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, in a pastoral letter to be read in all churches of the New York Archdiocese Sunday points out that there is still more to be done for the needy and implores support for the 1953 appeal of New York Catholic Charities.

The goal of the appeal this year is $2,477,128, the amount needed to continue the welfare program of Catholic Charities.

The pastoral letter calls attention to the multiple services of Catholic Charities and its 185 agencies which last year reached more than 430,000 men, women and children of every race and faith.

Cardinal Spellman urges all who are able to give at least one day's wage to enable Catholic Charities to continue its help to "the friendless, the hopeless and the homeless."

Following is the full text of the Cardinal's pastoral:

Many times I have sought your help for our suffering brothers and neighbors who desperately need attendance and assistance. Always you have responded generously. Let this year have my heart's deepest gratitude. But daily there is more to be done in God's name for God's needy, and therefore once more I must beg your charity for Catholic Charities which, through its many agencies, gives counsel, help and hope to the sick, the abandoned and orphaned, the destitute and delinquent, the incurable and mentally afflicted.

Is there one among us who does not feel compassion, and immediate desire to comfort and protect a neglected or motherless child or homeless infant?

Is there one whose heart does not ache at sight of the sick, infirm and forgotten aged, and who does not wish at once to help alleviate their loneliness and sufferings?

In remembrance of our own beloved fathers and mothers, in thankfulness to God for normal, healthy children, and in gratitude for our own material blessings, limited though they may be, I pray each one of you who is able, to give at least one day's wage to help Catholic Charities to continue to be your helpmate to the friendless, the hopeless and the homeless.

Begging your prayers for the Sister and Brothers whose love of God is expressed in selfless unflinching devotion to His needy, and in invoking upon you and your loved families God's mercy and blessings, I remain

Gratefully, devotedly,

FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN,

Archbishop of New York.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

STRIKING IT RICH

By some strange perversion we have come to associate the "strike-it-rich" idea with a mint of money or a whole train load of unneeded merchandise. Give a man ten thousand dollars worth of cars and refrigerators and he will go off into an ecstasy because he thinks he has hit a jackpot. Whereas the chances are that he has little or no need for a twentieth of what he felt he was making the right guess on a quizz show. And he will, in all probability, have an awful headache trying to dispose of the surpluses of merchandise and measure up to the demands of the Internal Revenue Department.

What we never seem to realize is that the real jackpot is not filled with "things" but with blessings like good health and a clean conscience and a happy home life and devoted friends. If you have two perfectly good legs to take you where you want to go you are indeed a lucky creature. Many a person would be glad to pay you good money for your transportation facilities—if legs could be bought and sold for greenbacks. Which, of course, they can't. G. K. Chesterton once packed a lot of the food for thought into the basket of two brief sentences when he said: "When we were children we were grateful to those who filled our stockings at Christmas. Why are we not grateful to God for filling our stockings with legs?"

Too often we think we have hit the jackpot when we have some place to go to spend the evening, whereas, if we had the eyes to see it, the chances are that we left the real possibilities for "striking it rich" behind when we clicked the lock on the place we call our home. An Illinois newspaper told recently about a man who said: "I finally hit a jackpot last night, something I've been trying to do for weeks. I was just lucky, I guess. There was a meeting. I absolutely had to attend, so I stayed home. For those who aren't so fortunate, I can report that it's a great experience. You get to play with the children, listen to the radio, talk with your wife, read, and fall asleep in your favorite chair. I repeat, it's great. Sometime I hope to have enough time to take up membership in the organization known as the Home."

Here is that old-fashioned House

We dwell in every day,

Without suspecting our abode

Until we drive away.

Teaching Mission Is Scheduled for Kingston in Fall

Plans are in the making for a Christian Teaching Mission to be held in Kingston churches Sept. 24 to Oct. 1, it was announced today by the Rev. William McVey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and chairman of the Provisional Committee.

Under the joint sponsorship of the Department of Education Evangelism of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., the Kingston Council of Church Women and the Kingston Ministerial Association, the Teaching Mission strives to alert every person and every organization in each local church to its full opportunities and responsibilities of Christian fellowship. Beginning with a study of the mission of the church by each church itself, the Teaching Mission will carry on a complete religious census of the community, ending with a proposal of church program enlargement both in its educational and evangelistic mission.

Dr. Harry Kalas, national director of the Teaching Mission, will be in Kingston April 19 to further explain and present the Teaching Mission to interested churches. Initial organization for this inter-church effort will begin under the direction of Dr. Kalas.

A meeting of the Provisional Committee will be held Sunday, April 12, at 4:30 p. m., at St. James Methodist Church. Plans for the meeting with Dr. Kalas and other matters pertaining to the mission will be discussed.

Cardinal Urges All to Support Charities Drive

Expressing gratitude for the past generosity of the people of New York his Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, in a pastoral letter to be read in all churches of the New York Archdiocese Sunday points out that there is still more to be done for the needy and implores support for the 1953 appeal for New York Catholic Charities.

The goal of the appeal this year is $2,477,128, the amount needed to continue the welfare program of Catholic Charities.

The pastoral letter calls attention to the multiple services of Catholic Charities and states that more than 430,000 men, women and children of every race and faith.

Cardinal Spellman urges all who are able to give at least one day's wage to enable Catholic Charities to continue its help to "the friendless, the hopeless and the homeless."

Following is the full text of the Cardinal's pastoral:

Many times I have sought your help for our suffering brothers and neighbors who desperately need attendance and assistance. Always you have responded generously. For this year, I have your deepest gratitude. But duty there is more to be done in God's name for God's needy, and therefore once more I must beg your charity for Catholic Charities which, through its many agencies, gives counsel, help and hope to the sick, the abandoned and orphaned, the destitute and delinquent, the incurable and mentally afflicted.

Is there one among us who does not feel compassion, and immediate desire to comfort and protect a neglected or motherless child or homeless infant?

There are those whose heart does not ache at sight of the sick, the firm and forgotten aged, and who does not wish at once to help alleviate their loneliness and sufferings?

In remembrance of our own beloved fathers and mothers, in thankfulness to God for normal, healthy children and in gratitude for our own material blessings, limited though they may be, pray each one of you who is able, to give at least one day's wage to help Catholic Charities to continue to be your helpmate to the friendless, the hopeless and the homeless.

Begging your prayers for the Sister and Brothers whose love of God is expressed in selfless untiring devotion to His needy, and invoking upon you and your beloved families God's mercy and blessings, I remain

Gratefully, devotedly,

FRANCIS CARDINAL SPELLMAN,

Archbishop of New York.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

STRIKING IT RICH

By some strange perversion we have come to associate the "strike-it-rich" idea with a mint of money or a whole train load of unneeded merchandise. Give a man ten-thousand dollars worth of cars and refrigerators and he will go off into an ecstasy because he thinks he has hit a jackpot. Whereas the chances are that he has little or no need for a twentieth of what he fell heir to by making the right guess on a quiz show. And he will, in all probability, have an awful headache trying to dispose of the surpluses of merchandise and measure up to the demands of the Internal Revenue Department.

What we never seem to realize is that the real jackpot is not filled with "things" but with blessings like good health and a clean conscience and a happy home life and devoted friends. If you have two perfectly good legs to take you where you want to go you are indeed a lucky creature. Many a person would be glad to pay you good money for your transportation facilities—if legs could be bought and sold for greenbacks.

Why, of course, he can't. G. K. Chesterton once packed a lot of the food for thought into the basket of two brief

MODENA NEWS

Modena, April 10—A surprise party was given Marylou DuBois Tuesday night by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois, in celebration of her 16th birthday. Marylou is a junior at the Wallkill Central High School. Attending the party were Eileen Coy, Joan Hartney, Nancy Black, Marie Nuzzo, Carolee Coy and Genevieve Smith. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served, including a birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager, Jr., and Kathleen I. Wager visited relatives in Highland Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, entertained as guests Easter Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Conroy and son Edward of Brewster.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge and Mrs. Charles Smith accompanied Mrs. Solie Bernard and son, Donald, of Poughkeepsie, and their guest, Quartermaster Byron F. Paltridge of the USS Salem, to Gardiner Tuesday where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keeping and daughters, Susan and Kathy Ann.

Patricia Pink visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Traudt, at Rhinebeck during the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were recent visitors in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McHugh of Wallkill were visitors in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Jerome LeFevre of New Paltz has returned from Florida where she spent the past winter season at her home in Fort Lauderdale.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were among local visitors in New Paltz Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beatty and daughter, Irvia, of the New Paltz road, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty in Clintonville Sunday.

Relatives from New Jersey visited Mrs. Alvina Matheisen Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal C. Davis of Centerville, frequent visitors in town, spent the past weekend at Newcomb in the Adirondacks.

JACOBY
ON BRIDGEChamp Will Insure Every Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"A champion as a rule overlooks no opportunity to insure his contract," remarked John C. Stablein, of Seattle, in a recent issue of the Bridge World Magazine. Stablein, one of the best bridge analysts in the country, then proved his point with the hand shown today.

"West carefully considered the bidding before making his opening lead," Stablein pointed out. "West decided there was no virtue in a spade lead, so he led the eight of clubs. If declarer had two clubs, West could give his partner a ruff when he got in with the ace of hearts."

This imaginative defense would have succeeded against a careless declarer. The average declarer would take the king of clubs, and promptly force out the ace of trumps. West would then lead another club, and East would ruff to defeat the slam contract.

The actual declarer could see this danger very clearly. At the second trick he took the ace of diamonds, cashed the ace of

Good Schools Add
To Value of Home

Whether or not a family buying or building a home has children of school age, school facilities of the neighborhood should be investigated.

It has been estimated that proximity to a good school adds as much as $1,000 to the value of a home. Inadequate schools adversely affect the resale value of a house because families with children will not be interested, thereby greatly narrowing the market.

In studying the school situation, the home buyer is advised not to depend entirely on a real estate salesman's word. Sometimes he can be mistaken. It is best to check with the school authorities themselves. Although a school is located only a few blocks from the property, it may be in a different district while the school serving the property is a mile or more away.

Learn whether the school is unduly overcrowded, and if it is, what plans are under way to expand the building and its teaching staff. As a result of a 10 per cent rise in population and a record-breaking birth rate in the past few years, few schools exist that are not overcrowded and under-staffed.

Shelf-Desk Suggested

If space is short and your budget limited, but you'd like to give your youngsters a convenient place to do home work and store books, why not build a simple shelf-desk. You can extend it along a wall about 15 to 24 inches in depth. Above it build a narrower shelf for books. The shelf-desk should be built at snack-bar height or regular desk height. Add to this a good reading lamp.

Shower Bath Control

A thermostatic shower mixing valve is so accurate that the temperature of the water is said to vary less than half a degree, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. The valve protects bathers against variations in temperature and changes of pressure in the supply lines.

Brass Screws Best

It's best to use only brass screws for work that's going to be exposed to the weather. Iron screws rust and this not only stains the surrounding surface but will in time cause the screw head to disintegrate.

Background for Dishes

Painting the back wall of a dish cupboard terra cotta or turquoise blue silhouettes the dishes in effective fashion. The color selected should, of course, harmonize with other colors in the room.

Paint-Brush Technique

There's an art to "loading" a brush with paint. Dip it in about one-third the bristle-length. Tap it gently on the sides of the can to "settle" the paint into the brush. Never scrape it on the rim of the can. Always start with a clean brush.

Keep Pilot Jet Clean

Pilot lights on gas ranges often go out because the little hole in the pipe gets clogged with dirt or grease. Try working a thin piece of wire through the opening. This usually does the trick.

For Flower Crock

If you have left-over paint that is beginning to dry out, you can use it to advantage on flower pots. The thick paint, when applied to the crock, gives it a textured appearance that is very effective.

For Screws and Nails

An old muffin tin, screwed under the workbench top so that it can be swung back out of the way when not in use, is handy for storing small screws, brads, tacks and nails.

Windows Once Taxed

A tax on windows which was in force in England from 1695 until the middle of the last century and in America in colonial times, made them a costly refinement.

Concealing Seams

Open seams between walls and windows and door trim can be concealed by covering the seam with a strip of quarter round molding.

Stitch-in-Time Pays

Once a roof begins to crack, bulge, blister, rot or rust, have it checked. The stitch-in-time technique pays off in this instance. The renewal of protective coatings is especially important at this time of year when there is stormy weather ahead.

Fade-Proof Blueprints

To keep blue prints from fading while working in direct sunlight and to protect them from rain and moisture, mount the prints on heavy cardboard or scrap plywood with cellulose tape over the edges. Then cover both sides with a coat of thinned shellac.

THE SOMERSET

Well Planned,
Inside and Out

Rooms ..... Five
Bedrooms ..... Two
Closets ..... Five
Cubage ..... 26,100 ft.
Dimensions ..... 41' x 31'

Build around the front terrace, which you can "dress-up" to enhance the exterior appearance of this one story house, The Somerset looks small and cozy from the outside and contains plenty of well planned living space inside.

Architecturally a part of the house, the one car garage makes up a part of the right wing of "The Somerset," balances the living room wing on the left. Measuring 41' x 31', "The Somerset" has a cubage of 26,100 feet and can be built on a 70 foot lot.

If you have no children or if they no longer live at home, you'll find this modified ranch house ideally suited to your needs. On the other hand, if your family is just large enough to require two bedrooms, "The Somerset" may be just the house you've been looking for.

If you need but one regular bedroom, the den or bedroom can be used only as a den or can double as a guest room if you so desire. This room can, however, be used as a bedroom if you need two sleeping rooms; since it is well lighted and ventilated and contains a good sized closet, it can be a very comfortable bedroom.

With the exception of the kitchen, which is reached through the breakfast area, all rooms in "The Somerset" open directly off the central hallway. Hence it is not necessary to go through one room to reach another and you are able to enjoy privacy whether you're entertaining friends in the living room or relaxing in your bedroom.

Because the breakfast room is so spacious, pleasant and well-lighted you'll enjoy eating all your meals in it. When decorating this room be sure to take into consideration the fact that you will be using it as more than just a room in which to eat breakfast. Your formal dining room set can be placed in the living room, but chances are you'll only eat in there on Sundays and special occasions.

The generous amount of closet space in "The Somerset" is certain to please the homemaker who really appreciates lots of convenient storage space because she knows how much easier it is to find any item needed when a house is so planned that there's "a place for everything and everything's in its place." And, if you're the lady of the house you know yourself it's much easier to persuade your youngsters and your husband to put their "things" away when there's a specific place in which they can keep their possessions.

Very well lighted and equally pleasant, the living room is large enough so as to serve as a sort of library-den. If you so desire, you can have the expanse of right wall, between the doorway and the back wall covered with book shelves. Include a magazine table and rack, a couple of comfortable chairs and reading lamps and you'll have a cozy corner where you and other members of your family can read your favorite books and magazines.

Since there's no room on the first floor of "The Somerset" for a laundry, you should have it installed in the basement under the kitchen; place the heating plant under the living room. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Need Water Protection

Masonry and concrete require protection from the weather—and especially from water. Stucco houses can absorb as much as one ton of water during a rain. Cement-block basements can hold more than two tons of water in the walls. As it penetrates to the inside of the walls above ground, it can cause the blistering of paint and the destruction of plaster. It is consequently the greatest wisdom to make such masonry surfaces water-repellent by painting them.

Modern Heating Plant

The lure of such mechanical aids to housekeeping as automatic washers, dryers, and cleaners has less appeal to home buyers than does a modern heating system. A canvass of speculative builders in seven leading cities revealed that home buyers are taking a definite interest in the heating systems of the homes they are now using the heating system as a selling feature for their homes.

Entrance Hall
Should Have
Several Roles

Families that plan the entrance hall only as a place to welcome guests are overlooking several additional functions it can perform.

A good entrance hall provides a "buffer zone" that will protect valuable rugs and furnishings in other rooms, and at the same time helps control the flow of traffic within the home.

The well-planned entrance hall is short; its construction cost is just as much per foot as that of the living room or bedrooms, so don't go into needless expense for a long hall. The clothes closet should have sliding doors, as these are easier to use in a small space.

A good entrance hall has a floor that does not need coverings and can take dirt, rain, mud and snow. One of the most satisfactory materials for it is clay tile, since tile is waterproof and durable.

As a traffic control point, the entrance hall should provide easy access to most parts of the home. It should open into the living room, as a matter of course, but why shouldn't a bathroom and the kitchen also be handy to it?

A bathroom near the entrance hall means that children coming from play can reach the bath without tracking through the house. If the kitchen opens off it, the homemaker can reach the front door easily and quickly and save herself many steps daily.

Open Stock Furniture

One rule to keep in mind as you buy furniture is—always choose pieces that are in open stock. For if you're like most home owners, you add one good item at a time. And, when you buy open stock furniture, you're always sure that you'll be able to match the things that you have.

MODENA NEWS

Modena, April 10—A surprise party was given Marylou DuBois Tuesday night by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois, in celebration of her 16th birthday. Marylou is a junior at the Wallkill Central High School. Attending the party were Eileen Coy, Joan Hartney, Nancy Black, Marie Nuzzo, Carolee Coy and Genevieve Smith. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served, including a birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager, Jr., and Kathleen I. Wager visited relatives in Highland Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, entertained as guests Easter Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Conroy and son Edward of Brewster.

Mrs. Freston Paltridge and Mrs. Charles Smith accompanied Mrs. Solie Bernard and son, Donald, of Poughkeepsie, and their guest, Quartermaster Byron F. Paltridge, of the USS Salem, to Gardiner Tuesday where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keeping and daughters, Susan and Kathy Ann.

Patricia Pink visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Traudt, at Rhinebeck during the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were recent visitors in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McHugh of Wallkill were visitors in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Jerome LeFevre of New Paltz has returned from Florida where she spent the past winter season at her home in Fort Lauderdale.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois and daughter, Marylou, were among local visitors in New Paltz Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beatty and daughter, Irva, of the New Paltz road, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty in Clintondale Sunday.

Relatives from New Jersey visited Mrs. Alvina Matheisen Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal C. Davis of Centerville, frequent visitors in town, spent the past weekend at Newcomb in the Adirondacks.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Champ Will Insure Every Contract

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"A champion as a rule overlooks no opportunity to insure his contract," remarked John C. Stablein, of Seattle, in a recent issue of the Bridge World Magazine. Stablein, one of the best bridge analysts in the country, then proved his point with the hand shown today.

"West carefully considered the bidding before making his opening lead," Stablein pointed out. "West decided there was no virtue in a spade lead, so he led the eight of clubs. If declarer had two clubs, West could give his partner a ruff when he got in with the ace of hearts."

This imaginative defense would have succeeded against a careless declarer. The average declarer would take the king of clubs, and promptly force out the ace of trumps. West would then lead another club, and East would ruff to defeat the slam contract.

The actual declarer could see this danger very clearly. At the second trick he took the ace of diamonds, cashed the ace of

Good Schools Add To Value of Home

Whether or not a family buying or building a home has children of school age, school facilities of the neighborhood should be investigated.

It has been estimated that proximity to a good school adds as much as $1,000 to the value of a home. Inadequate schools adversely affect the resale value of a house because families with children will not be interested, thereby greatly narrowing the market. In studying the school situation, the home buyer is advised not to depend entirely on a real estate salesman's word. Sometimes he can be mistaken. It is best to check with the school authorities themselves. Although a school is located only a few blocks from the property, it may be in a different district while the school serving the property is a mile or more away.

Learn whether the school is unduly overcrowded, and if it is, what plans are under way to expand the building and its teaching staff. As a result of a 10 per cent rise in population and a record-breaking birth rate in the past few years, few schools exist that are not overcrowded and under-staffed.

Shelf-Desk Suggested

If space is short and your budget limited but you'd like to give your youngster a convenient place to do home work and store books, why not build a simple shelf-desk. You can extend it along a wall about 15 to 24 inches in depth. Above it build a narrower shelf for books. The shelf-desk should be built at snack-bar height or regular desk height. Add to this a good reading lamp.

Shower Bath Control

A thermostatic shower mixing valve is so accurate that the temperature of the water is said to vary less than half a degree, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. The valve protects bathers against variations in temperature and changes of pressure in the supply lines.

Brass Screws Best

It's best to use only brass screws for work that's going to be exposed to the weather. Iron screws rust and this not only stains the surrounding surface but will in time cause the screw head to disintegrate.

Background for Dishes

Painting the back wall of a dish cupboard terra cotta or turquoise blue silhouettes the dishes in effective fashion. The color selected should, of course, harmonize with other colors in the room.

Paint-Brush Technique

There's an art to "loading" a brush with paint. Dip it in about one-third the bristle-length. Tap it gently on the sides of the can to "settle" the paint into the brush. Never scrape it on the rim of the can. Always start with a clean brush.

Keep Pilot Jet Clean

Pilot lights on gas ranges often go out because the little hole in the pipe gets clogged with dirt or grease. Try working a thin piece of wire through the opening. This usually does the trick.

For Flower Crock

If you have left-over paint that is beginning to dry out, you can use it to advantage on flower pots. The thick paint, when applied to the crock, gives it a textured appearance that is very effective.

For Screws and Nails

An old muffin tin, screwed under the workbench top so that it can be swung back out of the way when not in use, is handy for storing small screws, brads, tacks and nails.

Windows Once Taxed

A tax on windows which was in force in England from 1695 until the middle of the last century and in America in colonial times, made them a costly refinement.

Concealing Seams

Open seams between walls and windows and door trim can be concealed by covering the seam with a strip of quarter round molding.

Stitch-in-Time Pays

Once a roof begins to crack, bulge, blister, rot or rust, have it checked. The stitch-in-time technique pays off in this instance. The renewal of protective coatings is especially important at this time of year when there is stormy weather ahead.

Fade-Proof Blueprints

To keep blue prints from fading while working in direct sunlight and to protect them from rain and moisture, mount the prints on heavy cardboard or scrap plywood with cellulose tape over the edges. Then cover both sides with a coat of thinned shellac.

THE SOMERSET

Well Planned, Inside and Out

Rooms ..... Five
Bedrooms ..... Two
Closets ..... Five
Cubage ..... 26,100 ft.
Dimensions ..... 41' x 31'

Built around the front terrace, which you can "dress-up" to enhance the exterior appearance of this one story house, The Somerset looks small and cozy from the outside and contains plenty of well planned living space inside.

Architecturally a part of the house, the one car garage makes up a part of the right wing of "The Somerset," balances the living room wing on the left. Measuring 41' x 31', "The Somerset" has a cubage of 26,100 feet and can be built on a 70 foot lot. If you have no children or if they no longer live at home, you'll find this modified ranch house ideally suited to your needs. On the other hand, if your family is just large enough to require two bedrooms, "The Somerset" may be just the house you've been looking for.

If you need but one regular bedroom, the den or bedroom can be used only as a den or can double as a guest room if you so desire. This room can, however, be used as a bedroom if you need two sleeping rooms; since it is well lighted and ventilated and contains a good sized closet, it can be a very comfortable bedroom.

With the exception of the kitchen, which is reached through the breakfast area, all rooms in "The Somerset" open directly off the central hallway. Hence it is not necessary to go through one room to reach another and you are able to enjoy privacy whether you're entertaining friends in the living room or relaxing in your bedroom.

Because the breakfast room is so spacious, pleasant and well-lighted you'll enjoy eating all your meals in it. When decorating this room be sure to take into consideration the fact that you will be using it as more than just a room in which to eat breakfast. Your formal dining room set can be placed in the living room, but chances are you'll only eat in there on Sundays and special occasions.

The generous amount of closet space in "The Somerset" is certain to please the homemaker who really appreciates lots of convenient storage space because she knows how much easier it is to find any item needed when a house is so planned that there's "a place for everything and everything's in its place." And, if you're the lady of the house you know yourself it's much easier to persuade your youngsters and your husband to put their "things" away when there's a specific place in which they can keep their possessions.

FREE WORLD MUST NOT RELAX

Every time Moscow plots a new maneuver, we have to remind ourselves that the Communists frequently act from many motives in planning a particular tactic.

The present "peace" overtures, for instance, are considered by experts on Russia to reflect the need of the new Malenkov regime for the kind of strength and stature Stalin could not bequeath it.

But if the maneuver is successful in that, it may accomplish something more. It may convince millions of Europeans, Americans and Asians that the Kremlin wants a broad peace, defined the way the free world defines peace.

In such an event, a strong tendency would develop among free peoples to slack up on their defenses. Even now the white heat has gone out of this effort.

Should millions be further lulled to sleep, projects like the six-nation European army pact and the rearmament of vital Germany and Japan could easily come into serious jeopardy.

Nothing would please Moscow more. The European pact, especially, is right at the critical stage. The lower house of the West German parliament has ratified it. If final action is soon completed and Italy and the smaller nations follow suit, pressure will be heavy on the reluctant French to give their approval, too. This is an ideal moment to toss in a wrench.

General Chulikov, top Russian general in Germany, has voiced anew the Soviet desire for a peace treaty and the "reunification of the country." This is an old refrain the Reds have sung many times without attracting much of an audience. For up to now Moscow has never given any concrete sign of sincerity.

If Russia now should suddenly agree to free elections in East Germany, to the return of some 300,000 Germans still held as slaves or war prisoners, the Bonn government would be impressed. In the interest of its political life, it would have to respond to such gestures.

Negotiations for peace and unity in Germany would surely stop the European army project dead in its tracks.

Western diplomats therefore are watching carefully to see whether the new peace offensive extends to concrete German and perhaps Austrian proposals. It will be a clear tip-off to one aspect of the Russian purpose.

In the face of a tantalizing appeal to the Germans, it would be hard for free men everywhere to keep remembering that the Kremlin still wants to conquer the world. But no matter what happens, we must stay alive to this peril, and get ready to meet it.

AMERICANS ADVANCING

The American world changed greatly in the '40's, in points not connected with the war. The incisive thinker, Lyman Bryson, calls attention to this in his new book, "The Next America." He says:

"In 1951 we spent 3 1/4 times as much for seeds and flowers as in 1940. These were not mostly for big estates and public parks, but for homes. In the same period Americans spent more than five times as much for musical instruments, three times as much for educational research, five times as much for homes and decorations. There were also twice as many visits by vacation travelers to national parks."

Prices had been raised by inflation, and the population had increased. Neither factor, however, sufficiently explains these differences. Prosperity and the enlargement of view which the war brought to many account for some of it. After allowing for all these considerations, the fact remains that American taste must have improved markedly. A blunt way of putting it might be that we have become more civilized, more interested in the refinements of life.

These facts offer a strong rebuke to the foreign critics who call the United States a nation of materialists, growing steadily more so.

There is something definitely wrong with the logic of the fellow who is continually

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IS IT A CRIME?

Some time ago, I wrote that it is not a crime in this country to be a Communist and that I could not understand why so many of them took refuge in the Fifth Amendment on the ground that to testify would incriminate them.

So I was overwhelmed by letters pro and con; some from distinguished lawyers who explained the intricacies of the problem; some from laymen who insist that to be a Communist is criminal per se.

A crime cannot be defined by private opinion; it is defined by an act of legislation. Privately we may hold that for a woman to dye her hair is a crime, but as no legislative body has so stipulated, it is not a crime. Under the Federal Government, a crime may be treason, a felony or a misdemeanor.

Some letter-writers make the point that a Communist is ipso facto a traitor, but what they overlook is that it is the courts alone who can decide this with respect to the individual concerned. The accepted definition of treason is:

Treason against the United States has been defined by the United States Constitution as levying war against the United States or adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort.

To be declared a traitor, a man must be indicted by a Grand Jury, tried by due process in a court of law, convicted and sentenced. Less than this process is impossible under the American way of life.

The Communist situation has become complicated by the fact that there is no law making membership in the Communist Party a crime. But the Smith Act, tested in the case of "The Eleven" in New York before Judge Harold Medina, and upheld by the United States Supreme Court, did establish that Eugene Dennis and his comrades did conspire to organize the Communist Party as a group to teach and advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force and violence.

Here then is a conflict of ideas, namely, that while it is not a crime to be a member of the Communist Party, it is a crime to organize to teach and advocate the overthrow of the American Government by force and violence. A lawyer writes me that were a Communist client to seek his advice, he would therefore be forced to advise his client to take refuge in the Fifth Amendment.

Another point that is made by a lawyer deserves quotation:

The answer to a question need not be in itself incriminating in order for the privilege against self-incrimination to become operative. If the answer to a question might furnish a clue to the commission of a crime, or form a link in a chain of circumstances which might tend to incriminate, a person is entitled to raise the privilege. Now, while membership in the Communist Party in itself is not a crime, admission of membership therein might give a clue or a link to the government to identify the individual as a knowing member of a conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, punishable under the Smith Act of 1940. Thus, so long as the Smith Act is on the books, an individual can refuse to answer the question on the grounds of self-incrimination.

Nevertheless, if a man is guilty, as most Americans are of an act, in all their lives against the United States, I cannot understand why he should fear self-incrimination. If he fears that something that he might say could by implication or construction get him into trouble, then he must know that he did something wrong or that he was associated with people who did something wrong.

I am also told: Under the present decisions of the Supreme Court, if a person once answers that he is not a member of the Communist Party, it would probably be held that he had waived all his rights to refuse to answer any other questions whatsoever about Communism.

However, if a person has not performed an act against the United States, why should he not be willing to answer questions concerning Communism, the answers being designed to aid the United States? For example, suppose I happened to witness a murder, but no one saw me witness it, should I not notify the police, lest I be questioned about myself and why I was there? ### NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR ASTHMATICS

Because patients with asthma seldom die during an attack and keep normal between attacks, the public generally is not greatly interested in this disease. However, when a child has had an attack of infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) which has left him or her crippled, great sympathy is expressed and rightly so.

However, many children suffer with asthma which, while not crippling to the limbs, cripples the general health and happiness of the child. Accordingly, just as some years ago the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was established, so about three years ago public-spirited citizens established the National Foundation for Asthmatics.

The Foundation, with headquarters in Tucson, Arizona, is a non-profit, non-sectarian, philanthropic, educational and research organization dedicated to the care, schooling and rehabilitation of children with chronic asthma.

In accepting the co-chairmanship of the Foundation, James A. Farley, industrialist and former postmaster general of the United States, stated: "America's greatest asset lies in her youth. Healthy normal childhood is vital if our children are to develop into leaders and useful citizens of tomorrow. To help these children to assume their full stature, in our society, will, in truth, be helping America to remain strong. I strongly urge all citizens to support the Foundation's plans to bring health and happiness to deserving youngsters all over the nation."

Established in 1949, the Foundation has acquired the nationally known Brandes School at Tucson, Arizona, for use as a rehabilitation and schooling center for children from all parts of the nation. The first consideration of the Foundation is the plight of almost 2,000,000 American children who suffer with chronic asthma. The Foundation provides full scholarships for children whose parents are unable to bear the expense involved in maintaining their children in Arizona. Partial scholarships are made available in instances where families are able to meet a portion of the cost.

For years the climate of Arizona has been known as helping patients with sinus disease, hay fever, and other allergic diseases, and lately physicians and specialists have become aware of the remarkable progress shown by asthma sufferers after being removed to the Arizona sunshine and environment provided at the Foundation's school.

In addition to care, schooling, and treatment of asthmatic children, the Foundation sets up a nationwide program of education to make parents more aware of asthma, enabling them to organize and secure treatment of the disease before it gets a deep hold on their children.

Being sensitive to various foods, pollens, and other substances may cause many distressing symptoms. ## One Time It'd Be a Pleasure to Go Into Action

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—President Eisenhower's congressional breakfast and luncheon guests have been notified that he is getting quite a collection of elephants.

Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma noticed one large silver elephant in a special niche. It bore an inscription saying that it was from Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois. Senator Kerr observed in a letter to his constituents that Dirksen was the Taft administration's made such a violent speech against Dewey at Chicago, and who voted against confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen as the President's ambassador to Moscow.

Rep. George E. Meader, Michigan Republican, noticed in particular a small elephant covered with diamonds. The President explained it was the Order of the Elephant, presented by Denmark, and that on the President's death, this award would have to be returned to that country.

Rep. Meader asked if the elephant had any political significance. The President said that at the time he received it, it did not.

Holds Opinion in Check

National Academy of Sciences may have something to say about the firing of Bureau of Standards Director, Dr. Allen V. Astin, by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Assistant Secretary Craig R. Sheaffer. Dr. Astin was one of several scientists recommended for the job by the national academy at the request of Secretary of Commerce Charles W. Sawyer, who wanted to find the best man available for the job.

This is customary procedure for the national academy in giving scientific advice to any department of government when requested to do so. The national academy was created by President Lincoln as an agency outside of government and free from political interference.

The academy was not consulted before Dr. Astin's resignation was demanded. Dr. Detlev W. Bronk of Johns Hopkins, president of the academy, says it will have no statement to make on the action unless its opinion is requested. But the 90th annual meeting of the academy will be held in Washington at the end of April. And the question of political censorship of scientific research will be a subject for its discussion.

Park Car and Walk

Washingtonians of Luxembourg origin chipped in with other natives of the little grand duchy now living in the U. S. to buy a wedding present for their hereditary Grand Duke Jean and his bride, Princess Josephine Charlotte of Belgium. The gift is a snazzy new convertible.

Belgian embassy officials in Washington say that in spite of this gift, the royal couple will have to walk to the church and through the streets following the wedding ceremony. It's a tradition to give the people a chance to join in the celebration.

Scouting the Education Field

President Eisenhower's personnel scouts are looking for either a state director of education or the superintendent of some big and well-run school system to take over the U. S. Office of Education when Commissioner Earl James McGrath steps out.

A complete reorganization of USOE will be necessary due to a congressional ball-up over its appropriations. The last Congress ordered Office of Education to police part of the Korean GI education program, but failed to provide money for this work.

Bureau of the Budget gave Commissioner McGrath authority to use other funds to carry out this assignment. It was assumed the new Congress would make up the shortage by a deficiency appropriation. But the new Congress decided USOE should get out of GI education, entirely.

The result was that some 50 people had to be fired, another 400 had to be given leaves, and several reports and publications had to be stopped completely to make up the deficit.

Roses Don't Get Rise

Most persistent social-climber in Washington is said to be the man who showered roses on Carolyn Hagner Shaw, editor of the capital's Green Book social register, for nine years, trying to get listed. This tenth year there were no roses, reports Mrs. Shaw. But this didn't get his name in the Green Book, either.

Navy Economy Unnerves Brass
Department of Defense brass got a little nervous after the Navy revealed that by putting wheels on its "Regulus" guided missile, it was saving hundreds of thousands of dollars in the development and test program. The principal worry was that this technique would inspire congressional economy demands that all guided missiles be put on wheels for testing.

Guided missiles capable of carrying what is called for security reasons "a powerful warhead" still cost over $100,000 apiece. That's why they aren't fired every day. It also explains why a defense line of guided-missile launching platforms built all around the U. S. to defend it from possible air and A-bomb attack, is out of the question.

The Navy's "Regulus," surface-to-surface missile, is in the $200,000 class. This is much higher than the Air Force "Matador," a similar type of weapon. But by ground-testing, Navy has been able to cut its test costs per weapon way below the Air Force figure. Guided-missile experts argue, however, that it's impossible to test all these new weapons on wheels.

Bureaucracy Is 'Necessary'
In connection with the Eisenhower administration decision to abolish Reconstruction Finance Corporation in June, 1954, resigning RFC Administrator Harry A. McDonald, a Republican, recently made this observation:

"There seems to be a feeling that all our difficulties are caused by various government agencies, and that if only they were abolished, all our problems would be solved and life would be so much happier. There seems to be no realization that all these agencies have come into existence as a matter of necessity to meet the problems of modern industrial America."

I suppose that if a reaction test were given to the average American, the very mention of RFC would evoke the immediate response of "mink coat" and "luxury hotel." I won't attempt to minimize the facts which prompt these reactions. However, I am happy to say that these conditions have been eliminated.

I think that the American people have little knowledge about these agencies, and what they do know distorts rather than enlightens."

The Sawkill unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau held a meeting at the schoolhouse Thursday night. The unit has been organized for a number of years and has always been active. However, since the present time, a majority of the members are unable to attend regular meetings due to other commitments, and it is difficult to find leaders to take various projects, it has been decided the unit will not continue to be as active as before, but will continue on a modified program. There will be at least four meetings planned during the year, and at least one project will be undertaken each year. Miss Parsons, Ulster county home demonstration agent, attended this meeting. She will teach whatever project is chosen by the unit, in the event, it is not possible to secure a leader at the time among the local group. The next meeting of the Sawkill Unit is planned to be held in September.

Leaves by Plane

Berlin, April 11 (AP)—Tight-lipped Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen left here in an American government plane today to take up his duties as the new U. S. envoy to Moscow. The plane carried a Soviet navigator and radio operator. The Russian-speaking diplomat spent last night in Berlin. He declined even to comment on the weather.

Dewey Lunches With President

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, in town for tonight's spring dinner of the exclusive Gridiron Club, was mum about what he discussed at a partial luncheon with President Eisenhower.

Dewey was delayed by flight difficulties yesterday and arrived while the President and other guests were having dessert. He said he managed to catch up.

The governor said his arrival was held up by a late departure from Albany and a wait of "one solid hour" in landing at LaGuardia Field because a small plane had gotten lost near the field.

On leaving the White House, he said "We had a very pleasant talk."

Asked whether, in line with advance speculation, there had been discussion of New York's bid to develop St. Lawrence river power with Canada, Dewey said:

"Anything of such a nature would, of course, have to come from the President."

Nothing to Say

That possibility dimmed when James C. Hagerly, Eisenhower's press secretary and Dewey's former press chief, said the President would have nothing to say about what was mentioned at the luncheon.

Asked for comment on the election of Surrogate Leonard W. Hall of Nassau county, N. Y., as Republican national chairman, Dewey reminded newsmen of his declaration in support of Hall a week ago.

Other luncheon guests included Vice President Nixon; Defense Secretary Wilson; Atty.-Gen. Brownell; Army Secretary Stevens; Navy Secretary Anderson;

Someone who looks over another person's shoulders and tells how to play a game might be called a kibitzer. The word is a Yiddish variant of the German word "Kibitz" a little bird's chirp which usually utters shrill cries to warn other birds of danger. He's the hunter's enemy.

Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top assistant, and Rep. Taber (R-N. Y.), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

It had been indicated earlier this week through Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) that Eisenhower and Dewey were almost certain to discuss New York's application to the Federal Power Commission for a license to join Canada in the power project.

The FPC has conducted hearings on the application and its decision is awaited. Canada has expressed growing impatience at what it said seemed an unnecessary delay.

Spy Ring Member Takes Life in Cell

Bonn, Germany, April 11 (AP)—An alleged key member of the big Soviet-operated spy ring uncovered in West Germany has committed suicide, the Federal Interior Ministry said today.

Dr. Hans Hartig, arrested with 37 other Germans on charges of spying for Russia, hanged himself last night in his cell in Essen, the ministry said.

Until recently, Dr. Hartig was an official of the West German Iron and Steel Association.

In this capacity, he had an intimate knowledge of West Germany's industrial secrets, the ministry said. It claimed he had been giving the Soviet espionage ring secret reports on industrial research and production for two years.

Acting chancellor Franz Blumberg yesterday announced the arrest of 35 German members of what he called "the biggest and most dangerous Russian-operated espionage ring uncovered since the beginning of the occupation in 1945."

The interior ministry today said two more members of the ring were seized last night. At least six others are being hunted.

To Celebrate 86th Birthday

Mrs. Henry Wolfersteig of 155 Stephan street, will celebrate her 86th birthday at her home on Sunday, April 12.

Born in the town of Saugerties, Mrs. Wolfersteig is the mother of five children, all residing in this city. They are, G. Oscar Wolfersteig, Mrs. Lorenzo Pardee, Clarence F. Wolfersteig, and Mrs. Mildred Wendland. The birthday celebrant also has five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

TYPICAL FAMILY BEHAVIOR

A problem very familiar to many of us is described in the following letter: "I have a son who is just three years old, and who, incidentally, is the only grandchild on my husband's side of the family. Needless to say they are very proud of him. My husband's mother, however, has one habit that is most annoying to me. Everything the child does, or says, that shows intelligence is just like her family, and his less admirable traits stem from my family. I tried overlooking it at first but there's a limit to my patience. This may sound trifling to you but I can hardly keep from 'blowing my top' at times. Don't you think this is very rude on her part? Also, have you any suggestions as to how to handle this situation tactfully?"

My suggestion, most earnestly given, is that you forget the entire situation since it is one that ninety-nine out of one-hundred daughters-in-law learn to learn to endure, and the sooner you do it, the better. In other words, it is just human nature that is quite unfeeling.

Is It Always Up to Him?

Dear Mrs. Post: The following question is probably very unimportant but nevertheless we would appreciate it if you will clear up this point: When a young man and girl go out on a "date," and they both smoke the same brand of cigarettes, should she smoke her own cigarettes or is it up to the young man to provide these for her?

Answer: There is no rule about this. Generally, he, as her host, does provide them, but it would not be too straining on her own generosity some time to offer him some of hers.

Unhappy Task

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just broken my engagement and now come the task of returning all of the presents that have been sent me. Will you please give me some idea of what to say in the notes accompanying the presents?

Answer: Write very briefly: "Because, unhappily, my engagement to John has been broken, I am sending back your lovely present."

When should public announcement of the engagement be made? Leaflet E-1, "Engagements," answers many questions on engagements. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. ## Civic Leaders Are Named to Assist In '53 UJA Appeal Outstanding business, civic and professional men and women have accepted key positions in the United Jewish Welfare Fund of the national 1953 life saving campaign of the United Jewish Appeal, it was announced today by Herman J. Eaton, chairman of the Kingston drive.

These community leaders, Eaton said, "will spark concerted efforts for maximum contributions to meet eventualities that are certain to flow from mounting Communist oppression of Eastern Europe's 2,500,000 Jews and Soviet hostility to Israel."

Eaton expressed what he termed "the serious concern of all of us for the Jewish men, women and children in that area, who are faced with a growing threat to their safety."

Big Sum Required

Eaton noted that the nation wide Jewish Appeal this year requires $144,524,250 to save lives, aid Israel, provide for scores of thousands of distressed Jews in Western Europe and North Africa, and help the resettlement of Jewish refugees who come to the United States.

Among the outstanding local leaders who have accepted campaign posts are Richard M. Kalish and Joseph Honig as chairmen of the initial gifts committee; Abraham Streifer and Seymour Werbalowsky, chairmen of the general solicitation committee; Ben Schechter and Irving Kalish, chairmen of the rural committee; Miss Rae Weiner, chairman of the women's division; Miss Sara Israel, publicity chairman; and Norman Rafalowsky, treasurer.

Eaton extolled his new associates for voluntarily accepting key positions in the campaign, stating: "They are acting in the best tradition of American democracy by reaching out a helping hand to less fortunate people overseas." Each of these men and women, he went on, will "put aside their personal affairs in the next few weeks to work wholeheartedly in our drive as we may achieve our campaign objective."

"But the success of our efforts," Eaton continued, "requires more than the selfless work of a group of devoted leaders. It will take maximum voluntary contributions by every person in Kingston to meet the extraordinary challenge posed by the Kremlin's harassment of the Jews of Eastern Europe."

Proceeds from Kingston's campaign, Eaton explained, will be allocated by the United Jewish Appeal to its three constituent agencies—the United Israel Appeal, which provides aid for the settlement and rebuilding of Israel; the Joint Distribution Committee, which gives relief and welfare assistance to needy Jews in many areas, including escapees from behind the Iron Curtain, and the United Service for New Americans, the agency concerned with aiding newcomers to the United States to settle and rebuild their lives here.

Contributions may be sent to the United Jewish Welfare Fund, 265 Wall street.

Futility Is Sidestepped

New York, April 11 (AP)—There's an unusual class in English at Sydenham Hospital, with the 14 elementary school students owning academic degrees no lower than M. D. The class is held three nights a week for foreign internes and resident doctors of the hospital who know little English.

Warren W. Smith, director of the "school," said yesterday he realizes the futility of putting elementary questions to his students such as, "do you see the cat?" Instead, said Smith, I put it to them this way: "If your patient showed signs of emotional disturbances, what would you do?"

The Choco Indians of Panama use bows and arrows, but travel in boats powered by outboard motors.

Shokan

Shokan, April 10—Patrick Carpenter of Richmond Hill and three of his high school friends from Long Island are spending a few days at the James Carpenter camp along the Ridge Road.

C. Tasse is hauling hay from the Merritt Winchell barn in Tonnogore to his place at Willow. This is bright, clean timothy and mixed hay. There also remained in the Winchell granary following Merritt's death in January, a quantity of cob corn, both dent and flint, the farm having been noted for excellence in hay and corn crops.

George Aarance and family have rented the James Rutherford bungalow along the west side of the Ashokan mountain road.

A home accident up in Delhi serves as a reminder not to leave gun cartridges lying around the house and barn. A woman of the Delaware county seat was wounded in both arms by fragments of a shell casing while attempting to remove it from the fireplace after she had dumped it out from an ashtray. (Only this winter a Shokan man found a loaded 12 gauge shotgun shell amongst a box of bolts, nuts, etc. which he bought at an old barn).

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday included Lester Elmendorf, War 1 veteran and Kingston real estate expert. Lester comes of old Olive stock, his mother having been one of the South Olive Winchells.

Ernest Beesmer, Olive Bridge postmaster, is now established in his attractive new building near the church. Ernie, somewhat handicapped in his duties by rheumatism, is assisted in the office by his wife.

The fire department auxiliary's dance will be held at the Onteora schoolhouse Saturday, April 11. The trucking of crushed stone and binder through Shokan appears to have become stepped up appreciably the past two weeks.

It is reported that the Story shale bank on Little Tonche mountain, long a local source of paving material for both town roads and driveways, is no longer available under the new ownership of the property.

William Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran, and Jacob Knecht of the same section have employment at the Napanoch prison where new boilers and electrical improvements are being installed at this time.

I tried overlooking it at first but there's a limit to the patience. This sound trifling to you but I can hardly keep from 'blowing my top' at times. Don't you think this is very rude on her part? Also, have you any suggestions as to how to handle this situation tactfully?"

My suggestion, most earnestly given, is that you forget the entire situation since it is one that ninety-nine out of one-hundred daughters-in-law have to learn to endure, and the sooner you do it, the better. In other words, be just human nature that is quite unfeeling.

Is It Always Up to Him?
Dear Mrs. Post: The following question is probably very unimportant but nevertheless we would appreciate it if you will clear up this point: When a young man and girl go out on a "date," and they both smoke the same brand of cigarettes or the same smoke her own cigarettes or is it up to the young man to provide these for her?

Answer: There is no rule about this. Generally, he, as her host, does provide them, but it would not be too strains on her own generosity some time to offer him some of hers.

Unhappy Task
Dear Mrs. Post: I have just broken my engagement and now comes the task of returning all of the presents that have been sent me. Will you please give me some idea of what to say in the notes accompanying the presents?

Answer: Write very briefly: "Because, unhappily, my engagement to John has been broken, I am sending back your lovely present."

When should public announcements of the engagement be made? Leaflet E-1, "Engagements," answers many questions on engagements. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Civic Leaders Are Named to Assist In '53 UJA Appeal

Outstanding business, civic and professional men and women have accepted key positions in the United Jewish Welfare Fund of the national 1953 life saving campaign of the United Jewish Appeal, it was announced today by Herman J. Eaton, chairman of the Kingston drive.

These community leaders, Eaton said, will spark concerted efforts for maximum contributions to meet eventualities that are certain to flow from mounting Communist oppression of Eastern Europe's 2,500,000 Jews and Soviet hostility to Israel.

Eaton expressed what he termed "the serious concern of all of us for the Jewish men, women and children in that area, who are faced with a growing threat to their safety."

Big Sum Required

Eaton noted that the nation wide Jewish Appeal this year requires $144,524,250 to save lives, aid Israel, provide for scores of thousands of distressed Jews in Western Europe and North Africa, and help the resettlement of Jewish refugees who come to the United States.

Among the outstanding local leaders who have accepted campaign posts are Richard M. Kalish and Joseph Honig as chairmen of the initial gifts committee; Abraham Streiber and Seymour Werbalowsky, chairmen of the general solicitation committee; Ben Schechter and Irving Kalish, chairmen of the rural committee; Miss Rae Weiner, chairman of the women's division; Miss Sara Israel, publicity chairman; and Norman Rafalowsky, treasurer.

Eaton extolled his new associates for voluntarily accepting key positions in the campaign, stating: "They are acting in the best tradition of American democracy by reaching out a helping hand to less fortunate people overseas." Each of these men and women, he went on, will "put aside their personal affairs in the next few weeks to work wholeheartedly in our drive as we may achieve our campaign objective."

"But the success of our efforts," Eaton continued, "requires more than the selfless work of a group of devoted leaders. It will take maximum voluntary contributions by every person in Kingston to meet the extraordinary challenge posed by the Kremlin's harassment of the Jews of Eastern Europe."

Proceeds from Kingston's campaign, Eaton explained, will be allocated by the United Jewish Appeal to its three constituent agencies—the United Israel Appeal, which provides aid for the settlement and upbuilding of Israel; the Joint Distribution Committee, which gives relief and welfare assistance to needy Jews in many areas, including escapees from behind the Iron Curtain, and the United Service for New Americans, the agency concerned with aiding newcomers to the United States to settle and rebuild their lives here.

Contributions may be sent to the United Jewish Welfare Fund, 265 Wall street.

Futility Is Sidestepped

New York, April 11 (AP)—There's an unusual class in English at Sydenham Hospital, with the 14 elementary school students owning academic degrees no lower than M. D. The class is held three nights a week for foreign internes and resident doctors of the hospital who know little English.

Warren W. Smith, director of the "school," said yesterday he realizes the futility of putting elementary questions to his students such as, "do you see the cat?" Instead, said Smith, I put it to them this way: "If your patient showed signs of emotional disturbances, what would you do?"

The Choop Indians of Panama use bows and arrows, but travel in boats powered by outboard motors.

'Miracle' Fabric Suit Sheds Wrinkles

A year-around suiting in orlon, worsted and mohair is used (above) for the suit this traveler has chosen. Fabric is lightweight and possesses remarkable wrinkle-resistance. Four-gore skirt and jacket with rounded lapels make suit that's an expert traveler.—By Gaile Dugas, NEA Woman's Editor.

Shokan

Shokan, April 10—Patrick Carpenter of Richmond Hill and three of his high school friends from Long Island are spending a few days at the James Carpenter camp along the Ridge Road.

C. Tasse is hauling hay from the Merritt Winchell barn in Tugong to his place at Willow. This is bright, clean timothy and mixed hay. There also remained in the Winchell granary following Merritt's death in January, a quantity of cob corn, both dent and flint, the farm having been noted for excellence in hay and corn crops.

George Aarance and family have rented the James Rutherford bungalow along the west side of the Ashokan mountain road.

A home accident up in Delhi serves as a reminder not to leave run cartridges lying around the house and barn. A woman of the Delaware county seat was wounded in both arms by fragments of a shell casing while attempting to remove it from the fireplace after she had dumped it out from an ashtray. (Only this winter a Shokan man found a loaded 12 gauge shotgun shell amongst a box of bolts, nuts, etc. which he bought at an old barn.)

Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Thursday included Lester Elmendorf, War 1 veteran and Kingston real estate expert. Lester comes of old Olive stock, his mother having been one of the South Olive Winchells.

Ernest Beesmer, Olive Bridge postmaster, is now established in his attractive new building near the church. Ernie, somewhat handicapped in his duties by rheumatism, is assisted in the office by his wife.

The fire department auxiliary's dance will be held at the Onteora schoolhouse Saturday, April 11.

The trucking of crushed stone and under through Shokan appears to have become stepped up appreciably the past two weeks. It is reported that the Story shale bank on Little Tonche mountain, long a local source of paving material for both town roads and driveways, is no longer available under the new ownership of the property.

William Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran, and Jacob Knecht of the same section have employment at the Napanoch prison where new boilers and electrical improvements are being installed at this time.

1953 Big League Season Campaign of Many 'Ifs'

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Secretary Bert Rhea of the Hudson Valley League comes up with a few statistics that reveal the incredible sag of Johnny Ferraro's stretch run in the season just completed.

When you have digested them, you are inclined to sympathize with Frank Greco, the young Ellenville teenpin veteran, who had ideas about the HVBL individual average crown. This being the mark of distinction in area kegling.

Greco led the pack most of the second half, with Phil Versace and Jake Charter of Poughkeepsie at his heels. Ferraro was on the shelf with an old leg injury and Wally Gerken was coming on fast.

Then Ferraro stepped into the picture with the most spectacular finish in the league's history. Not even Nick Lecoe of Newburgh matched these feats in his palmist days. You have to go as far west as Cleveland and Skang Mercurio's all-time national record of 239 for an 81-game route to equal Ferraro's performance in his home drives.

In his last 15 games at home, The Ace pulverized the maples for a magnificent 236.5 average. Counting three games with Rapp's Express, on the Bowldrome's 9-10 drives, he racked up 17 out of 18 "200" games. For his last 15 games on the road, Ferraro averaged 192, proving the fallibility of man. Still for a road average, 192 is not a minor accomplishment.

In the 30-week campaign, the Miron Lumber anchor scored eleven "600" triples, a 711 and the all-time record of 818. During the course of the season, he accounted for 44 "200" games. Three times he had the hat trick. Twice he hit four in a row; once he hit five "200" succession and on another occasion he hit the twin century seven times running.

Here's the way Ferraro's stretch run looks in Secretary Rhea's official record book:

Date	Place	Opponent	Scores	Total
January 31	Home	Warren	233 203	234 679
February 7	At	Newburgh	214 195	212 621
February 14	Home	Elston's	236 233	242 711
February 21	At	Liberty	191 178	192 561
February 28	At	Rapp's	223 148	205 573
March 7	Home	Ph. Kn.	202 217	243 662
March 14	Home	Ell. Finke	226 217	243 685
March 21	At	Ph. Vets	192 164	190 546

• The Eleventh Frame:

Our nominations for Bowlers of the Year . . . Eleanor Dumenigo and George Shueldt. Both performed consistently over their career averages. Mrs. Dumenigo and Jessie Burnett are the best prospects to come along since Ada Markle, Bev Port and Elizabeth Egan. Frank Santore of Long Island, who leads the Chicago ABC is the same guy who suffered a tremendous shelling at the hands of Morris Cramer of Cohoes a year ago. Metropolitan sharpshooters swear by Santore as the steadiest kegler in their midst. When he "finds" an alley he has an inhuman knack of "holding" it. That's the secret of the professional and no man can consistently shoot in the 200-average bracket without that faculty.

The late Jimmy Blouin of Blue Island, Ill., became the 15th man to be elected to the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame. He was selected by the Bowling Writers of America.

Blouin, who died on April 6, 1947, was a particularly fine match game bowler. He was a two-time ABC champion, having won the all-events in 1909 and singles in 1911. Blouin won the U. S. match crown in a world open tournament in Chicago in 1922 and held it until he relinquished it in 1926.

Other Hall of Fame members include: Joe Bodis, Cleveland; Ad Carlson, Chicago; Charlie Daw, Milwaukee; Ned Day, West Allis, Wis.; Peter Howley, Chicago; John Koster, Nyack; Herb Lange, Watertown, Wis.; Mort Lindsey, Stamford, Conn.; Hank Marino, Milwaukee; Jimmy Smith, Brooklyn; Harry Steers, Elmhurst, Ill.; Joe Wilman, Chicago; Gil Zunker, Milwaukee.

Andy Varipapa of Hempstead and Barney Spinella of California figure to be the next two to make the grade.

Broskie's 583 Classic Total Leads Pinmen

Harold Broskie led a league for the second time this week, with a 583 (181-210-192) in the Ferraro Classic.

Don Rice was the Everybody's League pacemaker with 168-226-191 for 575 and Tony LaRocca was out of the No-Can-Do circuit with 179-195-187-561.

Bill Mohr powered 545, with 193-180-172, to shade Joe Nagy and Jack Parslow by two sticks in the No-Can-Do League.

Al Roosa cracked a 240 solo and 565 triple in the Classic and Bob Woolsey gained the show spot with 559. Scott Vining topped 549, LeRoy Webster 547, George Brown 542, Ed Dasher and Jack Haulenbeck 540, Art Buddenhagen 543, Ken Lowe 532.

Jo-Al's 2, Greco Bros. 1; Newcombe Oil 3; Barrow's Motors 0; Modjeska's 2, Ballantine's 1; Central Hudson 2, Esso Standard 1.

Felipe Hit 566

Frank Felipe's 232-566 was second best in the Everybody's wheel and Joe Henschel, shot 564. John Sweeney topped 535, Ray Houghtaling 210-529, John Schatzel 205-527, Jack Houghtaling 517, F. J. Schryver 203-511, F. Bartroff 510.

Greco Bros. 3, Inorro Inc. 0; Welch's Grocery 2, Cotto Beverages 1; Connolly's Bar 3, Island Dock 0; Vets NCO Assn. 3, Sparky's Tavern 0.

Raible Hits 555

Charlie Raible's 215-555 was in the runnerup spot in the Electro and Tom Parker had 539. Other top shooters were Ed Ashdown 535, Harold Smith 209-527, R. Herrick 514, J. O'Rourke 513.

Joe Nagy powered 219-543 and Jack Parslow tied it with a high of 208 in the No-Can-Do. Stan Colvin rapped 537, Don Koopen 532, W. Fatum 231-529, Ray Ott 520, Percy Slover 519, John Frederick 514, Claude Middagh 510, Carl Beatty 215-505 and Pete Nagy 505.

Team results: Schryver Lumber 2, Dittmar Sundials 1; Pontiac Garage 2, Smith's Store 1; Scholl's Butchers 3, Frederick's 0; Shultis Radio 2, Wee Par Golf 1.

Luke Easter is the heaviest player on the Cleveland Indians' roster. The first baseman weighs 235 pounds.

Yankees, Dodgers Have Big Orders

New York, April 11 (AP)—Will the New York Yankees make it five in a row? Can Brooklyn lick the seven-year-National League jinx and successfully defend its championship? Will Stan Musial cop his seventh batting title? Is Joe Black merely a one-year wonder?

How about Jackie Robinson? Where will he play now that he has lost his second base job to Rookie Junior Gilliam? Is Mickey Mantle really the "new" Joe DiMaggio? Will home run slugger Ralph Kiner bounce back or will he be traded? Will the Braves put Milwaukee on the map and vice versa?

These and other questions await answers as the 16 major league teams await the opening of the season next Monday and Tuesday. Approximately 300,000 spectators are expected to attend the 10 openers, two of which will take place Monday afternoon.

In special inaugurations, Washington will host the Yankees in the American League and the franchise-shifted Braves will be guests of Cincinnati in the National.

Right-handers Bob Porterfield (13-14) for the Nats and Alie Reynolds (20-8) for the Yankees will be the starting pitchers in Washington. Bud Podbielan (4-5) for the Redlegs and Warren Spahn (14-19) for the Braves will oppose each other in Cincinnati. Each game is expected to have a sellout crowd of 30,000.

55,000 Due at Cleveland

All teams will swing into action the following day. The largest crowd—some 55,000—is expected at Cleveland where the improved Chicago White Sox clash with the Indians. The White Sox will feature two newcomers, first baseman Ferris Fain and third baseman Stephen, obtained in trades with the Athletics and Red Sox. Rookie Bob (Red) Wilson, also may be behind the plate to handle the right-handed serves of Saul Rogovin. The Indians will field the same team behind Bob Lemon that finished second to the Yankees last year.

Baseball-hungry Milwaukee, with its brand new five-million dollar stadium packed to its 36,000 seat capacity, will celebrate its return to the major leagues, taking on Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals.

Yanks Expect 40,000

Some 40,000 are counted on to see the Philadelphia Athletics-Yankee game at New York where Alex Kellner, the strapping A's southpaw will match slants with right-handed Vic Raschi, who long has been a nemesis to Philadelphia batters.

Crowds of 15,000 are expected at St. Louis to see the Browns and Tigers and at Boston to watch the Senators and Red Sox.

A total of 111,000 is expected to take in the four National League openers with 25,000 at Chicago, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh may field four rookies as first baseman Paul Smith, shortstop Dick Cole and outfielders Felipe Montemayor and Frank Thomas against the Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Murry Dickson, the veteran-right-hander, will be on the mound. Carl Erskine will hurl for the Browns, who will preview their rookie find, Junior Gilliam, at second base, with Jackie Robinson at third.

Castellano-Brown

Miss ABC Doubles

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—A missed spare cost a New York-New Jersey doubles team the lead in the event in the American Bowling Congress tournament early today.

The two, Graz Castellano of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Joe Brown of Jersey City, N. J., missed the "lead" by eight pins, winding up with 1332 for a three-way tie for third place.

Castellano failed to pick up the No. 10 pin on a spare attempt in the sixth frame of his final game. The leading team in the event is Eddie Koepf and Joe Kiszoff of Cleveland, who posted 1339 on March 25.

Castellano, 34, had games of 193, 249, 198 for 640, while his 35-year-old teammate paced the array with 692 on 258, 220, 214. Brown's last game was marred by two rattles.

This was the only change of the 48th day, the first in the minor events since a week ago Monday.

Detroit Keglers

Pace WIBC Meet

Detroit, April 11 (AP)—Detroit area teams continued to dominate the early sessions of the Women's International Bowling Congress here Friday.

As the record-breaking affair entered its third day, a hot-shot gang from suburban Pontiac led the regular division, firing 2630 on the Detroit Recreation lanes.

Captain Joanne Padar fired a 353 series to pace the Harry Ackerman quintet, which held a 22-pin edge over Service Window, another Pontiac entry.

Griff's Grill, also of Pontiac, headed the booster class with 2368.

More than 4,800 teams still are to bowl in the record-breaking pin carnival.

KWBA Meeting

The Kingston Woman's Bowling Association will hold an executive board meeting on Monday, April 13, at 7 p. m. at Ferraro's Bowldrome.

Gun Club Meets

The monthly meeting of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club will be held on Tuesday, April 14. A venison burger and spaghetti dinner has been scheduled for 6:30 p. m. The business meeting scheduled at 8 o'clock will be brief and will be followed by movies and refreshments.

Lew Worsham Plays in Rain

Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., plays an approach shot on the No. 3 fairway of the National Golf Club course, at Augusta, Ga., in the pouring rain as the second round of the Masters Tournament got under way amid heavy showers, April 10.

Ben Hogan Tops Masters With 36-Hole Total 139

State Tournament Entry Sets Records In Every Division

Rochester, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—A record entry of bowlers from throughout the state today began a scramble for championship titles in the annual New York State Men's bowling tournament.

E. Hoffmeister, of Rome, will defend his singles title against 9,012 bowlers in the five-week event. He picked the title up in Kingston last year with 733 pins.

Entries in the five-man team division total 2,001. The defending champs in this division are the Wagner and Adler High-schools of New York City. Their total at Kingston was 3,219.

W. Hansly and J. Bomba, of New York City, who rolled 1,336 a year ago, will defend the doubles title against 4,568 teams. In the all-events, 8,018 bowlers have indicated they will seek the title won last year by F. Calolia, of Syracuse, with a total of 1,951.

The old entry records, all set in Buffalo in 1949, were: Five-man teams 1,904; doubles 3,530; singles 6,889; and all-events 6,060.

Loyd Mangrum of 618, Ill., who picked up more cash on the winter tour than anyone else, pulled back into contention with a neat four-under 68 for a 142 total. Tied with Mangrum for fifth, only only three strokes off the pace were Ed (Porty) Oliver of Palm Springs and Milton Marusic of Herkimer, N. Y. Oliver had a 73, Marusic a 72.

Hogan—at times called Bantam Ben, the Little Texan, or the Comeback Kid—is playing his 11th Masters, his third since a near-fatal auto-bus collision. He won in 1951 and has never finished out of the top 10.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the defending champion, almost shot himself out of the running when his wood game went sour. He took a 75 for a 146 total and a six-way tie for 16th.

Loyd Mangrum of 618, Ill., who picked up more cash on the winter tour than anyone else, pulled back into contention with a neat four-under 68 for a 142 total. Tied with Mangrum for fifth, only only three strokes off the pace were Ed (Porty) Oliver of Palm Springs and Milton Marusic of Herkimer, N. Y. Oliver had a 73, Marusic a 72.

Hogan—at times called Bantam Ben, the Little Texan, or the Comeback Kid—is playing his 11th Masters, his third since a near-fatal auto-bus collision. He won in 1951 and has never finished out of the top 10.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the defending champion, almost shot himself out of the running when his wood game went sour. He took a 75 for a 146 total and a six-way tie for 16th.

Bantam Ben Sharp With Iron Play

Augusta, Ga., April 11 (AP)—Ben Hogan has collected a string of nicknames during his long career of championship golf, but none suited him better today than "Mr. Methodical."

Hogan was a study in concentration and precision as he put together a 32-37-69 over the Augusta National Club course for a 139 total and a one-stroke lead going into the third round of the 17th Masters tournament.

Par for the 6,900-yard course with the sprawling, undulating greens is 36-36-72.

Hogan, registered out of Palm Springs, Calif., but now living in his home town of Fort Worth, Tex., was particularly adept with his iron game as he made his bid for his second Masters' title.

His five under par 139 was one better than Big Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., who matched Ben's second-round 69. Chick Harbert of Detroit, who took the lead after the first day with a 68, and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., tied for third with 141. Kroll had a 70, Harbert a 73.

1953 Big League Season Campaign of Many 'Ifs'

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Secretary Bert Rhea of the Hudson Valley League comes up with a few statistics that reveal the incredible saga of Johnny Ferraro's stretch run in the season just completed.

When you have digested them, you are inclined to sympathize with Frank Greco, the young Ellenville tenpin veteran, who had ideas about the HVBL individual average crown. This being the mark of distinction in area kegling.

Greco led the pack most of the second half, with Phil Versace and Jake Charter of Poughkeepsie at his heels. Ferraro was on the shelf with an old leg injury and Wally Gerken was coming on fast.

Then Ferraro stepped into the picture with the most spectacular finish in the league's history. Not even Nick Leoce of Newburgh matched these feats in his palmy days. You have to go as far west as Cleveland and Skang Mercurio's all-time national record of 239 for an 81-game race to equal Ferraro's performance on his home drive.

In his last 15 games at home, The Ace pulverized the maples for a magnificent 236-6 average. Counting three games with Rapp's Express, on the Bowdoinville 9-10 drives, he racked up 17 out of 18 "200" games. For his last 15 games on the road, Ferraro averaged 192, proving the fallibility of man. Still for a road average, 192 is not a minor accomplishment.

In the 30-week campaign, the Miron Lumber anchor scored eleven "600" triples, a 711 and the all-time record of 815. During the course of the season, he accounted for 44 "200" games. Three times he had the hot trick. Twice he hit four in a row; once he hit five "200" in succession and on another occasion he hit the twin century seven times running.

Here's the way Ferraro's stretch run looks in Secretary Rhea's official record book:

Date	Place	Opponent	Scores	Total
January 31	Home	Warren	233 203 234	670
February 7	At	Newburgh	214 195 212	621

• The Eleventh Frame:

Our nominations for Bowlers of the Year . . . Elbanor Dumenigo and George Shueidelt. Both performed consistently above their career averages. Mrs. Dumenigo and Jessie Burnett are the best prospects to come along since Ada Markle, Bev Port and Elizabeth Egan. Frank Santore of Long Island, who leads the Chicago ABC is the same guy who suffered a tremendous shattering at the hands of Morris Craner of Cohoes a year ago. Metropolitan sharpshooters swear by Santore as the steadiest kegler in their midst. When he "finds" an alley he has an uncanny knack of "holding" it. That's the secret of the professional and no man can consistently shoot in the 200-average bracket without that faculty.

The late Jimmy Blouin of Blue Island, Ill., became the 15th man to be elected to the American Bowling Congress Hall of Fame. He was selected by the Bowling Writers of America.

Blouin, who died on April 6, 1947, was a particularly fine match game bowler. He was a two-time ABC champion, having won the all-events in 1909 and singles in 1911. Blouin won the U. S. match crown in a world open tournament in Chicago in 1922 and held it until he relinquished it in 1926.

Other Hall of Fame members include: Joe Bodis, Cleveland; Ad Carlson, Chicago; Charlie Daw, Milwaukee; Ned Day, West Allis, Wis.; Peter Howley, Chicago; John Koster, New York; Herb Lange, Watertown, Wis.; Matt Lindsey, Stamford, Conn.; Hank Marino, Milwaukee; Jimmy Smith, Brooklyn; Harry Steers, Elmhurst, Ill.; Joe Wilman, Chicago; Gil Zunker, Milwaukee.

Andy Varipapa of Hempstead and Barney Spinella of California figure to be the next two to make the grade.

Broskie's 583 Classic Total Leads Pinmen

Harold Broskie led a league for the second time this week, with a 583 (181-210-192) in the Ferraro Classic.

Don Rice was the Everybody's League pacemaker with 168-226-191 for 575 and Tony LaRocca was out in front in the Electrol circuit with 179-195-187-561.

Bill Mohr powered 545, with 193-180-172, to shade Joe Nagy and Jack Parslow by two sticks in the No-Can-Do League.

Al Roosa cracked a 240 solo and 565 triple in the Classic and Bob Woolsey gained the show spot with 539. Scott Vining topped 549. LeRoy Webber 547, George Brown 542, Ed Dasher and Jack Haulenbeck 540, Art Buddenhagen 543, Ken Lowe 532.

Jo-Al's 2, Greco Bros. 1; Newcombe Oil 3; Barrows Motors 0; Modjeska's 2, Ballantine's 1; Central Hudson 2, Esso Standard 1.

Felipe Hit 566

Frank Felipe's 232-566 was second best in the Everybody's wheel and Joe Heidcamp, Jr., shot 564. John Sweeney topped 535. Ray Houghtaling 210-529, John Schatzel 205-527, Jack Houghtaling 517, F. J. Schryver 203-511, F. Bartroff 510.

Greco Bros. 3, Incoorino Inc. 0; Welch's Grocery 2, Cott Beverages 1; Connelly Market 3, Island Dock 0; Vets NCO Assn. 3, Sparky's Tavern 0.

Raible Hits 555

Charlie Raible's 215-555 was in the runnerup spot in the Electrol and Tom Parker had 539. Other top shooters were Ed Ashdown 535, Harold Smith 209-527, R. Herick 514, J. O'Rourke 513.

Joe Nagy powered 219-543 and Jack Parslow tied with a high of 208 in the No-Can-Do. Stan Colvin rapped 537, Don Koepfen 532, W. Fatum 231-529, Ray Otto 520, Percy Slover 519, John Frederick 514, Claude Middagh 510, Carl Beatty 215-505 and Pete Nagy 505.

Team results: Schryver Lumber 2, Dittmar Sundials 1; Pontiac Garage 2, Smith's Store 1; Scholl's Butchers 3, Frederick's 0; Shultis Radio 2, Wee Par Golf 1.

Luke Easter is the heaviest player on the Cleveland Indians' roster. The big first baseman weighs 235 pounds.

Yankees Announce Record Breaking TV Slate of 85 Games

New York, April 11 (AP)—The New York Yankees will televise a record total of 85 games, including 13 away from home, during the 1953 baseball season and will experiment with the efforts of TV by blacking out five home night games.

The entire 85-game schedule, starting with the "Presidential" opener at Washington Monday afternoon, will be carried over WPIX, New York. Some of the games also will be beamed into New Haven.

Five Yankee games in Cleveland will be seen on TV, five from Washington, two from Washington, two from Chicago and one from Philadelphia. No Yankee games will be televised from St. Louis, Detroit or Boston. In each case the New York Giants either will be idle or playing a day game. WPIX also carries their games.

Yankees, Dodgers Have Big Orders

New York, April 11 (AP)—Will the New York Yankees make it five in a row? Can Brooklyn lick the seven-year-National League jinx and successfully defend its championship? Will Stan Musial cap his seventh batting title? Is Joe Black merely a one-year wonder?

How about Jackie Robinson? Where will he play now that he has lost his second base job to Rookie Junior Gilliam? Is Mickey Mantle really the "new" Joe DiMaggio? Will home run slugger Ralph Kiner bounce back or will he be traded? Will the Braves put Milwaukee on the map and vice versa?

These and other questions await answers as the 16 major league teams await the opening of the season next Monday and Tuesday. Approximately 300,000 spectators are expected to attend the 10 openers, two of which will take place Monday afternoon.

In special inaugurations, Washington will host the Yankees in the American League and the franchise-shifted Braves will be guests of Cincinnati in the National.

Righthanders Bob Porterfield (13-14) for the Nats and Allie Reynolds (20-8) for the Yankees will be the starting pitchers in Washington. Bud Podbielan (4-5) for the Redlegs and Warren Spahn (14-19) for the Braves will oppose each other in Cincinnati. Each game is expected to have a sellout crowd of 30,000.

55,000 Due at Cleveland

All teams will swing into action the following day. The largest crowd—some 55,000—is expected at Cleveland where the improved Chicago White Sox clash with the Indians. The White Sox will feature two newcomers, first baseman Ferris Fain and third baseman Vern Stephens, obtained in trades with the Athletics and Red Sox. Rookie Bob (Red) Wilson, also may be behind the plate to handle the righthanded serves of Saul Rogovin. The Indians will field the same team behind Bob Lemon that finished second to the Yankees last year.

Beside the hungry Milwaukee, with its brand new five-million-dollar stadium packed to its 36,000 seat capacity, will celebrate its return to the major leagues, taking on Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals.

Yanks Expect 40,000
Some 40,000 are counted on to see the Philadelphia Athletics-Yankee game at New York where Alex Kellner, the strapping A's southpaw will match slants with righthander Vic Raschi, who long has been a nemesis to Philadelphia batters.

Crowds of 15,000 are expected at St. Louis to see the Browns and Tigers, and at Boston to watch the Senators and Red Sox.

A total of 111,000 is expected to take in the four National League openers with 25,000 at Chicago, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh may field four rookies—first baseman Paul Smith, shortstop Dick Cole and outfielders Felipe Montemayor and Frank Thomas against the Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Murry Dickson, the veteran-righthander, will be on the mound. Carl Erskine will lead the Brooks, who will present their rookie find, Junior Gilliam, at second base, with Jackie Robinson at third.

Castellano-Brown Miss ABC Doubles

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—A missed spare cost a New York-New Jersey doubles team the lead in the event in the American Bowling Congress tournament early today.

The two, Graz Castellano of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and Joe Brown of Jersey City, N. J., missed the lead by eight pins, winding up with 1332 for a three-way tie for third place.

Castellano failed to pick up the No. 10 pin on a spare attempt in the sixth frame of his final game. The leading team in the event is Eddie Koepke and Joe Kistoff of Cleveland, who posted 1339 on March 25.

Castellano, 34, had games of 193, 249, 198 for 640, while his 35-year-old teammate paced the array with 692 on 258, 220, 214. Brown's last game was marred by two rails.

This was the only change of the 48th day, the first in the minor events since a week ago Monday.

Detroit Keglers Pace WIBC Meet

Detroit, April 11 (AP)—Detroit area teams continued to dominate the early sessions of the Women's International Bowling Congress here Friday.

As the record-breaking affair entered its third day, a hot-shot gang from suburban Pontiac led the regular division, firing 2630 on the Detroit Recreation lanes.

Captain Joanne Padar fired a 555 series to pace the Harry Ackerman quintet, which held a 22-pin edge over Service Window, another Pontiac entry.

Griff's Grill, also of Pontiac, headed the booster class with 2368.

More than 4,800 teams still are to bowl in the record-breaking pin carnival.

Low Worsham Plays in Rain

Low Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., plays an approach shot on the No. 3 fairway of the National Golf Club course, at Augusta, Ga., in the pouring rain as the second round of the Masters Tournament got under way amid heavy showers, April 10.

State Tournament Entry Sets Records In Every Division

Rochester, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—A record entry of bowlers from throughout the state today began a scramble for championship titles in the annual New York State Men's bowling tournament.

E. Hoffmeister, of Rome, will defend his singles title against 9,012 bowlers in the five-week event. He picked the title up in Kingston last year with 733 pins.

Entries in the five-man team division total 2,001. The defending champs in this division are the Wagner and Adler High-schools of New York City. Their total at Kingston was 3,219.

W. Hansly and J. Bomba, of New York City, who rolled 1,336 a year ago, will defend the doubles title against 4,568 teams. In the all-events, 8,018 bowlers have indicated they will seek the title won last year by V. Caloia, of Syracuse, with a total of 1,961.

The old entry records, all set in Buffalo in 1949, were: Five-man teams 1,904; doubles 3,530; singles 6,889; and all-events 6,060.

Lakers Rout Knicks, 91-84 For NBA Title

New York, April 11 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers again are the National Basketball Association's champions but you never would have guessed it from a visit to their dressing room after they beat the New York Knickerbockers last night.

No wild shouting. No excessive horse play, like college kids who've just won the national title. For these were the champions, as overpowered in their field as the mighty New York Yankees. And like the Yankees, they saw nothing unusual in winning pro basketball's top prize for the second straight year and fourth time in five years. They won this time by taking four out of five games, three straight on the Knicks' court.

In the losers' dressing quarters, Coach Joe Lapchick neatly summed up the Lakers' 91-84 victory.

"The pros won it. They made the baskets when they had to, and we blew it."

John Kundla, the Lakers' youthful coach, caused the only great excitement in the champs' dressing room when he finally got through the crowd of well-wishers outside. The players yelled and gave him a few cuffs on the back.

"Our reserves were not too good in Minneapolis," Kundla said, but here in New York—boy, they were really good."

It was the Lakers' two platoon system that built up a 20-point margin early in the third quarter, just as the Lakers built up a big lead in every one of the five games. The second stringers made it 44-35 at the half, and the "pros," as Lapchick described them, stretched it to 55-35.

Spencer Returns

New York, April 11 (AP)—Darryl Spencer, the rookie New York Giant infielder hit in the face by a pitched ball Wednesday, is in New York today to watch his teammates in the first of a two-game series against Cleveland at the Polo Grounds. Spencer flew up from Nashville, Tenn., last night after he was released from a hospital. He's expected to be ready to return to action in about 10 days.

Trotters Win

Mangrum Fires 68
Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., who picked up more cash on the winter tour than anyone else, pulled back into contention with a neat four-under 68 for a 142 total.

Tied with Mangrum for fifth, only three strokes off the pace, were Ed (Porky) Oliver of Palm Springs and Milon Marusic of Herkimer, N. Y. Oliver had a 73, Marusic a 72.

Hogan—at times called Bantam Ben, the Little Texan, or the Comeback Kid—is playing his 11th Masters, his third since a near-fatal auto-bus collision. He won in 1951 and has never finished out of the top 10.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the defending champion, almost shot himself out of the running when his wood game went sour. He took a 75 for a 146 total and a six-way tie for 16th.

Sandy Defeats Beau by TKO

New York, April 11 (AP)—Randy Sandy, promising New York middleweight, is open to all offers after stopping experienced Jimmy Beau on a technical knockout at 2:03 of the eighth round last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

As blood continued to drip from a cut over Beau's right eye, Referee Percy Scalzo called a halt to the proceedings. It was only a formality for 22-year-old Sandy was way out front on all three official cards. Scalzo had it 5-2, and both judges Otto Suskind and Joe Epply scored it 6-1 up to the eighth.

Only 1,589 paying $3.292 were present for the nationally televised bout in which Beau, a New Canadian, Conn., product, subbed for the ailing Willie Troy.

There were knockdowns or anything close to it.

Bob Feller Hopes to Win 280 Games Without Being Forced to Resort to Any Trick Pitch

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

The fast ball, curve, change of pace and control are the basis of pitching.

A pitcher has control when he can get his curve, or breaking ball, over the plate when he is behind the batter.

If he can't do that, he isn't worth a yen.

A pitcher with natural physical advantages would be foolish to resort to an unorthodox pitch such as the knuckler, or screwball. That would only detract from the speed of the overpowering pitchers like Roberts, Simmons, Reynolds, Raschi, Maglie, Jansen and Hacker.

"Trick pitches come with age," says Allie Reynolds.

There are freaks of course, such as Carl Hubbell with his screwball and Hoyt Wilhelm with the knuckler. Wilhelm fooled with the knuckler as a kid. He isn't swift yet developed as a fast-breaking knuckler that amounts to a dry split ball. There are a half dozen other styles of cuties.

Feller Hopes for 280
Robert William Andrew Feller admits he no longer can make a high hard one jump under a pitcher's chin the way he once did, yet the one-time Iowa farm boy hopes to close out his brilliant run with 280 victories. That would mean 41 through three more seasons. Rapid Robert gives himself at 34.

Had not Bullet Bob Feller lost nearly four seasons to the Navy he could have become the third greatest winner of all time: taken his place behind Cy Young's 511 and Walter Perry Johnson's 414.

That would have been an astonishing feat for a pitcher in these days. Grover Cleveland Alexander accounted for 373.

Feller's fine war record cost him four of his best campaigns, you see, perhaps nearly 100 victories. He had won 24, 27 and 25, the three years before joining up, was far ahead of Johnson at a comparable stage in games won and strikeouts against bases on balls. He bounced back with 26 victories.

Feller doubts that he will resort to a knuckler ball or any other trick pitch in order to stick around. "When I get to that point, I had better hang up," he says.

He points out that while he wasn't throwing very hard in 1951, he managed to bag 21. He had a good curve and good slider and insists he still has them.

That Fatal Pitch
Feller attributes his poorest season—9 and 13 last trip—to lack of pinpoint control which led to his losing confidence. Bob traces the loss of his terrifying fast ball, not to arm trouble, but to a spike catching in a hole and tripping him as he broke off a curve ball that Barney McKoskey of the Athletics looked at as a third strike at Shibe Park in 1947.

"I believe I was faster that night in Philadelphia and had better control of a sharp curve than in any game in my life. I struck out nine of the first 11. But in falling, I banged up the thumb of my right hand and swayed my knee."

"I don't remember I ripped a couple of ribs loose. A few days after that, I developed a large lump on the right side of my back, where the ribs were damaged."

"From that night on," Feller sighs, "I ceased to be the power pitcher I was before."

Tess Moss Slams 577

Tess Moss led a power-packed session of the Women's Classic last night with a 577 blast at the Bowldrome. She opened fire with 218 and followed with 185 and 174.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, April 10—Mrs. Ruth G. Mills and daughters, the Misses Doris and Janet, were called to Orange, N. J., this week by the death of the latter's grandfather, Mr. Mills, Sr.

President Philip DiStasi appointed a nominating committee at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Monday night at McFarlands with E. H. Haviland, chairman, Francis Rheel, Peter Burdush and Supervisor John J. Gaffney to report at the next meeting the slate of officers to serve during the coming year. County Agriculture Agent William Palmer was the guest who described and gave a showing of pictures of a recent trip to California. Frank Mandy and Frank Kedenburg were appointed to represent the club at the meeting of the Town Board April 16 relative to sidewalk and the village dump. It was announced that the club would have a float in the Memorial Day parade. John Weisger spoke on the relation of the Chamber of Commerce in its relation to the town. Vincent Jesonek extended thanks for the cooperation received in the paper collection when 11 tons was gathered last month. The money received goes toward the camp fund of the Boy Scout Troop. The next drive will take place May 23 when Danny Canora and Philip Bravata are chairmen. Francis Rheel thanked those who contributed toward the drive for the blind. The club has four talking books in use and they will need replacing and they also purchase spectacles for many, of which they will make a report later. There were 26 members and one guest present.

Mrs. John F. Wadlin is program chairman for the May day luncheon which is held this year in the Methodist Church hall. She announced that Mrs. Willet Porter, New Paltz, would be the speaker and the soloist, Mrs. Paul Hasbrouck, Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Meredith Turner is general chairman for the luncheon. Mrs. Turner extended thanks for the assistance given toward the making of clam chowder which had netted a good sum toward repairs on the town clock. There was 75 quarts of chowder made and sold. A donation was made to the Heart drive. Mrs. Charles Baker was appointed greeting committee for this month and the housekeepers are Mrs. Harry Cotant, Jr., and Mrs. Harold DuBois. The rummage sale is to be held May 13, 14, 15 with the sale continuing Friday night in the kitchen of the church. Mrs. Lorin Osterhout is chairman for the sale. The president, Mrs. Luther Filkins appointed the nominating committee of Mrs. Edison Dimsey, Mrs. Troy Cook, Mrs. Peter Burdush who will report at the May meeting. Miss Belle Brinckerhoff is to attend a leadership training institute to be held at Oakwood school July 7. Mrs. Wadlin read a story regarding the Rev. and Mrs. Winters, missionaries in Africa who are in Dutchess county on furlough.

Hostesses for the telephone parties to be held April 15 are Mrs. Harriet Upright and Mrs. N. D. Williams at the latter's home, Mrs. John C. Miller, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. S. D. Farnham, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Charles Champlin.

Walter R. Seaman and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clarke attended the dinner of the Cancer Society in Kingston Tuesday night.

More than 50 persons attended the sunrise service Sunday morning on the grounds of the Masonic Temple, when the Rev. Stanley Jones was the speaker. Miss Joan Needham announced the hymns and led in the singing. The trumpeters, Lorraine Needham and Barbara and Mary Lewick led the singing. Following the service some 55 persons had breakfast in the hall of the Presbyterian Church served by the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Countryman, Valley Stream, have visited his mother this week.

Mrs. Ella Hodges, Rochester, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Baker, on Mile Hill.

David Baker is vacationing with relatives in Washington and John Baker is in Philadelphia. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker.

The birthday of Mrs. Frank Nicklin was observed March 29 by dinner at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Baker, Marlborough. Her husband and son and daughter, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilklow and brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Niel Wilklow, Voorheesville were guests.

Hail Batters Fort Meade

Baltimore, April 11 (AP)—Hail stones, some reported as big as eggs, battered sections of nearby Fort Meade late yesterday, damaging autos and homes. The hail came down during a severe thunderstorm. Within minutes it put a six-inch layer of ice on one area near the Fort Meade Hospital, post personnel said.

Takes Over UN Post

U. S. Ace Divorced Day of Capture

Las Vegas, Nev., April 11 (AP)—A U. S. double ace, Capt. Harold Fischer, was divorced the same day the Communists shot him down and reported capturing him.

Mrs. Dorothy Fischer charged the jet fighter pilot with unspecified mental cruelty. The decree, disclosed yesterday, was granted last Tuesday.

That same day 27-year-old Capt. Fischer, one of the two hottest aces in Korea, was reported missing. The Peiping radio said he parachuted from his plane and was caught.

The Swea City, Ia., pilot, who shot down 10 Russian-built MIGs in previous sorties, was on his 10th mission.

The Fischers were married in Columbus, Ga., April 22, 1949, the same year Fischer joined the air force. They have a son, 3-year-old Harold 3rd.

Doctor Quota Is Cut

Washington, April 11 (AP)—The Defense Department has cut its May doctor draft quota from 400 to 200, but ordered 266 doctors and 145 dentists inducted in June. The May quota for dentists was left at 195. Selective Service said it was ordering local draft boards to stop physical examinations and inductions of "Priority 3" doctors born before Aug. 31, 1922. The priority includes those who had no World War 2 service and received no government aid in their medical education.

Sir Barton, who won the Kentucky Derby in 1919, was first horse to win the "triple crown"—the Derby, Preakness, and Belmont Stakes.

Ex-Convict Sought For Questioning in Francaville Death

New York, April 11 (AP)—Police said today an ex-convict was being sought for questioning in connection with the slaying yesterday of 50-year-old Anthony Francaville in the street-floor office of his paper firm.

Francaville, father of six children, had been robbed and beaten about the head with a baling hook. His body was found by his business partner, Leonard Centonze. A $184 check and Francaville's wallet were missing.

Early today, police sent out a 13-state alarm for Clifford (Junior) Smith, 27-year-old Negro, an employee of the firm said to be on vacation.

Authorities said blood-stained clothing had been found and identified as belonging to Smith. They gave no further details.

Police said Smith currently is free on bail on a concealed weapons charge in New Jersey and that he served five years on an assault charge in Wadesboro, N. C., jail.

Canada Goose Is Home; Gala Welcome Is Given

Windsor, Ont., April 11 (AP)—Winnie, the Canada goose that stirred up international complications by getting stranded in Connecticut, is safely back home today after a gala welcome.

He winged into Windsor yesterday by plane—and was greeted with a fanfare befitting his fame.

Mayor Arthur J. Reaume and a battery of U. S. and Canadian newsmen, cameramen, photographers and reporters were on hand.

Capt. Amos Horst of New York's Wild Life Preservation Association accompanied the hitchhiking bird on the trip from the U. S.

Winnie became a front page celebrity a couple of weeks ago when lack of tail feathers prevented him joining his flock taking off to fly north from an inlet at Greenwich, Conn. Other geese tried unsuccessfully to help get him airborne.

Connecticut officials finally gave in to Canadian appeals and sent the crippled gander home in a crate.

Austin to Leave Hospital

Burlington, Vt., April 11 (AP)—Elder statesman Warren R. Austin, described by his physician as "completely recovered" from a cerebral attack, goes home today from Mary Fletcher Hospital. Dr. George A. Schumacher said the 75-year-old retired ambassador to the United Nations is in "good spirits" and plans to "walk out" of the hospital. Austin was stricken March 27.

Blind Osteopath Loses His Plea

Albany, April 11 (AP)—A blind osteopath has lost his bid for a law allowing him to broaden his treatments, but Gov. Dewey says he will ask the Board of Regents to see if it can ease restrictions in the case.

Dewey reluctantly vetoed a bill yesterday that would have permitted Dr. Robert A. Marks of Queens Village to use anesthetics, antiseptics, narcotics and biological products in his practice.

Similar permission was granted other osteopaths by state law in 1939. Osteopaths generally base their treatments on the theory that diseases are due chiefly to displacement of bones in the body.

Dewey commented in a memorandum that while Dr. Marks' case had "strong emotional appeal," he was rejecting the bill because he felt its provisions were unnecessarily broad and because it might "constitute an unwelcome precedent."

However, the governor said he would call the case to the Regents' attention to determine whether the osteopath could be granted a limited permission to broaden his practice.

Will Address Nurses

The Rev. Joseph Wahl, CSSR, professor of Latin at Mt. St. Alphonsus and pastor of the Sacred Heart Church of Esopus, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Ulster County Division, Licensed Practical Nurses, at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 16, at the court house in Kingston. Father Wahl's topic will be Leprosy. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Drove Without License

Robert Elliott Gardner, Jr., 27, of Ellenville, who state police said was the driver of a truck tractor that ran off Route 209 near Kerhonkson on Monday, was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel on a charge of driving without a license. The arraignment was held Friday after Gardner's release from Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, where he had been a patient since the accident, state police said.

Measured by special apparatus, speed of a driver when it touches a golf ball is 70 to 125 miles an hour.

Budenz Says Former Reds Should Cooperate

New York, April 11 (AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz says former Communists should cooperate with the FBI to destroy the "Communist conspiracy."

Budenz, one-time editor of the Communist Daily Worker and now an economics professor at Fordham University, made the statement last night at the annual "Loyalty Day" ceremonies of New York state's Catholic war veterans.

"Every ex-Communist should remind himself, every day of the year, and every year of his life, to make amends," he said.

Budenz, Joseph P. Kelly, foreman of the grand jury that probed for American Communists in the United Nations, and David A. Schulte, Jr., of the cigar store chain, received the CWV's Americanism awards.

Applauded as he accepted the award, Budenz said:

"I am only a sinner doing penance—not one to be applauded."

Budenz Says Former Reds Should Cooperate

New York, April 11 (AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz says former Communists should cooperate with the FBI to destroy the "Communist conspiracy."

Budenz, one-time editor of the Communist Daily Worker and now an economics professor at Fordham University, made the statement last night at the annual "Loyalty Day" ceremonies of New York state's Catholic war veterans.

"Every ex-Communist should remind himself, every day of the year, and every year of his life, to make amends," he said.

Budenz, Joseph P. Kelly, foreman of the grand jury that probed for American Communists in the United Nations, and David A. Schulte, Jr., of the cigar store chain, received the CWV's Americanism awards.

Appointed as he accepted the award, Budenz said: "I am only a sinner doing penance—not one to be applauded."

exchange disabled prisoners starting April 21.

Pravda charged open and hidden enemies of peace in Korea are using extraneous means to prolong the conflict. It predicted "total failure" for any western effort to tie in the questions of Indo-China and Korea territorial division with the prisoner negotiations.

France has been fighting a guerrilla war against Communists in Indo-China for years. How to wind up the war has been a matter of deep concern in the west.

After U. S.-French cold war talks in Washington last month, a joint statement warned the Chinese Reds of "most serious consequences" if a Korea truce led to Communist aggression elsewhere.

Such as sending "volunteers" to fight in Indo-China.

Sens. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Sparkman (D-Ala.), both members of the Foreign Relations Committee, applauded the prisoner exchange agreement, as did Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.).

Hickenlooper added, however, that he felt "we are again being fooled in the small number of our prisoners being exchanged."

The exchange involves 5,800 sick and wounded Reds for 600 allies, including 120 Americans.

Sparkman advised: "We must press forward and do all we can but we must be very cautious. We must be careful not to be swept away on a wave of optimism."

Lehman said he was very happy about the exchange accord but added: "We must not permit ourselves to be lulled to sleep into a false sense of security."

U. S. Sabre Jet lost in air combat since March 13—was piloted by a double MIG ace, Capt. Harold Fischer Jr. of Swea City, Iowa. Fischer failed to return from his 70th combat mission Tuesday and the Communist radio has said he was captured after parachuting from his crippled plane.

The other three planes—an Australian Meteor Jet, an F-84 Thunderjet and a Sabre—were lost to Red ground fire.

Governor Signs Bills to Protect Children at Pits

Dewey Also Signs Measure to Obtain Easier Convictions of Hunters

Albany, April 11 (P)—Three bills to protect small children from drowning in excavations have been signed by Gov. Dewey, his office announced today.

Demands for such legislation mounted, particularly on Long Island, after several tots perished in sand pits and sumps in recent months. The grimmest tragedy occurred in Elmont last Feb. 6 when three youngsters were drowned in a sand pit.

The legislation signed: 1. Required owners to cover or fence in open wells, cesspools, cisterns, catch basins or sumps. A violation would be a misdemeanor subject to a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and a year in jail. (Sen. S. Westworth Horton, R-Greenv.)

2. Give Nassau county and the towns of Chenango and Union in Broome county the power to have hazardous excavations filled either by the owner or the town at the owner's expense. (Assemblyman Edward P. Larkin, R-Floral Park.)

3. Empower all Erie county towns to fill excavated lands if the owner fails to do so after a hearing and receiving a notice. The town of Tonawanda has the power now. (Sen. John H. Cooke, R-Alden.)

Conviction Bill Signed
Dewey also signed a measure aimed at obtaining easier convictions of reckless hunters who kill or injure persons.

Under its terms, reckless hunters who kill someone are liable to charges of criminal negligence. If convicted, they would be subject to a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Previously, hunters who recklessly killed someone were subject to prosecution on charges of second-degree manslaughter—a conviction difficult to get because it carries a maximum 15-year sentence.

The new law also provides for jail sentences and fines for hunters who recklessly injure someone. They will be liable to a maximum sentence of one year in jail and $500 fine.

Tank Emptied Again, Komasa Tells Police
Victor Komasa of 47 Murray street told police early yesterday afternoon that the tank of his car had again been emptied of gasoline.

On several earlier occasions the thief or thieves had crept into his backyard during the night and stolen the contents of the tank, he explained.

In order to put a halt to the losses Komasa told police his son had put a lock on the tank. Now, surely, he could feel that the tank was secure.

At 1:43 p. m. yesterday he called police to report that once again his tank had been emptied. This time a hole had been punched in the bottom.

Big Three Study
American ambulance plane was warned with a burst of machine-gun fire in a similar incident.

The proposed new corridor would be about 100 miles long and nearly that in breadth at its western terminus. From west to east, it would gradually taper down, but even at its narrowest in the vicinity of Berlin, it would be at least 56 miles wide.

Under present rules, armed allied planes can be flown in and out of Berlin. But the Russians insist that such armament should be forbidden in future.

The Soviet suggestion for lowering the altitude of corridor flights seemed to stem from a Russian idea that navigational errors are fewer the closer that a pilot flies to the ground.

An allied official said the Russians presumably would not object to planes in the corridor going higher in case of bad weather or similar emergency.

Van Fleet Says Victory Only Can Bring Peace

Chicago, April 11 (P)—Permanent peace in Korea can be won, says Gen. James A. Van Fleet, only by a "smashing military victory" by the United Nations forces.

Any peace won across the negotiation table, the retired 8th Army commander said, would not be a permanent one and would not lead to the UN's announced objective of the unification of Korea.

Van Fleet, speaking before the Executive Club yesterday, said "conditions exist in Korea which could bring about an armistice, but I do not believe that conditions would exist in an armistice which would bring about a satisfactory peace."

United Nations
ments, two each in Korean, Chinese and English. Then Lee affixed his signature.

When the pact was signed, Lee arose and pressed for a quick review of the true facts.

Daniel replied that he would inform his superiors. Then Lee suggested that liaison group meetings should be resumed "within one or two days to discuss and decide on the date for resuming the plenary sessions."

With that, the meeting adjourned. No date was set for another meeting but it appeared likely the UN command would call another session soon.

Daniel emerged from the conference hut waving the document and smiling broadly. He told correspondents:

"Pleasure to Sign"
"It was a pleasure for me to sign this agreement today for repatriation for sick and wounded personnel. I recall that the United Nations command has repeatedly urged this move since first making it in December, 1951."

Daniel told the Reds that the allies would be ready on 72 hours notice to start delivery of sick and wounded at Panmunjom. The Reds said they would let him know Sunday how soon they are ready to begin.

Thus, at the earliest, the exchange probably would not begin before the middle of next week.

Before the 10-point agreement was signed, Daniel made one more appeal—the third in a week—for the Communists to increase the number of allied prisoners they will return.

"For humanitarian reasons," Daniel said, "I again request that you use the broadest interpretation of the degree of sickness in determining the final number of captured personnel who will be repatriated. We will do the same."

Lee replied, "your side considers that there should be no further dispute about this question."

Just before the signing, Lee entered for the record a statement reserving the right "to request that the sick and injured captured personnel of our side not repatriated this time will be handed over to a neutral state so as to secure a just solution to the question of their repatriation after an armistice."

The sick and wounded exchange was worked out on allied insistence that no disabled prisoner be forced to return against his will. That principle is contained in the Geneva Convention.

Work Out Details
Once the major proceedings were finished, staff officers of both sides met to complete minor administrative details. They already have agreed on the reception sites inside the Panmunjom area. The exchange will be carried out from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily.

They met for almost three hours Saturday afternoon and agreed on all important administrative details for the exchange of sick and wounded.

The staff officers agreed to meet again Sunday at 11 a. m. (EST, Saturday) unless the liaison groups meet again, in which case the staff officers meeting will follow.

Shelving Is Expected
United Nations, April 11 (P)—With the United Nations debate on old Communist peace proposals continuing into next week, diplomatic sources predicted today that a Burmese complaint against Nationalist China will be quietly shelved until the next General Assembly meeting in September.

The United States is hopeful that a settlement of the issue—the latest hot case for the UN—can be arranged long before that time rolls around. The American delegation is working at top speed to smooth out the dispute and avoid a UN debate at the present time.

Mrs. Hobby Takes Oath
Washington, April 11 (P)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby took the oath in President Eisenhower's office today as the first secretary of health, education and welfare.

The new cabinet officer, second woman ever to serve in that high rank, received her commission from the President after being sworn by Frank K. Sanderson, White House administrative officer. "Now your rank is no longer simulated," the President remarked with a smile as he handed over the commission. "Now you are a real secretary."

Farley Sees President
Washington, April 11 (P)—James A. Farley, former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, made a brief courtesy call on President Eisenhower today. He came here from New York to attend tonight's dinner of the Gridiron Club.

Church Party Tonight
An inter-church youth party will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at St. James Methodist Church. There will be a hobo party and all young people of high school age are invited.

Wariness Is Shown

exchange disabled prisoners starting April 21.

Pravda charged open and hidden enemies of peace in Korea are using extraneous means to prolong the conflict. It predicted "total failure" for any western effort to tie in the questions of Indo-China and Korea territorial division with the prisoner negotiations.

France has been fighting a guerrilla war against Communists in Indo-China for years. How to wind up the war has been a matter of deep concern in the west.

After U. S.-French cold war talks in Washington last month, a joint statement warned the Chinese Reds of "most serious consequences" if a Korea truce led to Communist aggression elsewhere—such as sending "volunteers" to fight in Indo-China.

Sens. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Sparkman (D-Ala.), both members of the Foreign Relations Committee, applauded the prisoner exchange agreement, as did Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.).

Hickenlooper added, however, that he felt "we are again being fooled in the small number of our prisoners being exchanged."

The exchange involves 5,800 sick and wounded Reds for 600 allies, including 120 Americans.

Sparkman advised: "We must press forward and do all we can but we must be very cautious. We must be careful not to be swept away on a wave of optimism."

Lehman said he was very happy about the exchange accord but added: "We must not permit ourselves to be lulled to sleep into a false sense of security."

ROKs Are Pushed

U. S. Sabre Jet lost in air combat since March 13—was piloted by a double MIG ace, Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., of Suez City, Iowa. Fischer failed to return from his 70th combat mission Tuesday and the Communist radio has said he was captured after parachuting from his crippled plane.

The other three planes—an Australian Meteor Jet, an F-84 Thunderjet and a Sabre—were lost to Red ground fire.

Governor Signs

Bills to Protect

Children at Pits

Dewey Also Signs Measure

to Obtain Easier

Convictions of

Hunters

Albany, April 11 (AP)—Three bills to protect small children from drowning in excavations have been signed by Gov. Dewey. His office announced today.

Demands for such legislation mounted, particularly on Long Island, after several tots perished in sand pits and sumps in recent months. The grimmest tragedy occurred in Elmont last Feb. 6 when three youngsters were drowned in a sand pit.

The legislation signed:

1. Required owners to cover or fence in open wells, cesspools, cisterns, catch basins or sumps. A violation would be a misdemeanor subject to a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and a year in jail. (Sen. S. Westworth Horton, R-Greenport).

2. Give Nassau county and the towns of Chango and Union in Broome county the power to have hazardous excavations filled either by the owner or the town at the owner's expense. (Assemblyman Edward P. Larkin, R-Floral Park).

3. Empower all Erie county towns to fill excavated lands if the owner fails to do so after a hearing and receiving a notice. The town of Tonawanda has the power now. (Sen. John H. Cooke, R-Alden).

Conviction Bill Signed

Dewey also signed a measure aimed at obtaining easier convictions of reckless hunters who kill or injure persons.

Under its terms, reckless hunters who kill someone are liable to charges of criminal negligence. If convicted, they would be subject to a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Previously, hunters who recklessly killed someone were subject to prosecution on charges of second-degree manslaughter—a conviction difficult to get because it carries a maximum 15-year sentence.

The new law also provides for jail sentences and fines for hunters who recklessly injure someone.

They will be liable to a maximum sentence of one year in jail and $500 fine.

Tank Emptied Again,

Komasa Tells Police

Victor Komasa of 47 Murray street told police early yesterday afternoon that the tank of his car had again been emptied of gasoline.

On several earlier occasions the thief or thieves had crept into his backyard during the night and stolen the contents of the tank, he explained.

In order to put a halt to the losses Komasa told police his son had put a lock on the tank. Now, surely, he could feel that the tank was secure.

At 1:43 p. m. yesterday he called police to report that once again his tank had been emptied. This time a hole had been punched in the bottom.

Big Three Study

American ambulance plane was warned with a burst of machine-gun fire in a similar incident.

The proposed new corridor would be about 100 miles long and nearly that in breadth at its western terminus. From west to east, it would gradually taper down, but even at its narrowest in the vicinity of Berlin, it would be at least 56 miles wide.

Under present rules, armed allied planes can be flown in and out of Berlin. But the Russians insist that such armament should be forbidden in future.

The Soviet suggestion for lowering the altitude of corridor flights seemed to stem from a Russian idea that navigational errors are fewer the closer that a pilot flies to the ground.

An allied official said the Russians presumably would not object to planes in the corridor going higher in case of bad weather or similar emergency.

Shelving Is Expected

United Nations, April 11 (AP)—With the United Nations debate on old Communist peace proposals continuing into next week, diplomatic sources predicted today that a Burmese complaint against Nationalist China will be quietly shelved until the next General Assembly meeting in September.

The United States is hopeful that a settlement of the issue—the latest hot case for the UN—can be arranged long before that time rolls around. The American delegation is working at top speed to smooth out the dispute and avoid a UN debate at the present time.

Mrs. Hobby Takes Oath

Washington, April 11 (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby took the oath in President Eisenhower's office today as the first secretary of health, education and welfare.

The new cabinet officer, second woman ever to serve in that high rank, received her commission from the President after being sworn by Frank K. Sanderson, White House administrative officer.

"Now your rank is no longer simulated," the President remarked with a smile as he handed over the commission. "Now you are a real secretary."

Farley Sees President

Washington, April 11 (AP)—James A. Farley, former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration, made a brief courtesy call on President Eisenhower today. He came here from New York to attend tonight's dinner of the Gridiron Club.

Church Party Tonight

An inter-church youth party will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at St. James Methodist Church. There will be a hobo party and all young people of high school age are invited.

Edible Mushrooms

More than 700 species of mushrooms have been proved edible and many others doubtless will be found fit for food, according to authorities.

Van Fleet Says Victory

Only Can Bring Peace

Chicago, April 11 (AP)—Permanent peace in Korea can be won, says Gen. James A. Van Fleet, only by a "smashing military victory" by the United Nations forces.

Any peace won across the negotiation table, the retired 8th Army commander said, would not be a permanent one and would not lead to the UN's announced objective of the unification of Korea.

Van Fleet, speaking before the Executives Club yesterday, said "conditions exist in Korea which could bring about an armistice, but I do not believe that conditions would exist in an armistice which would bring about a satisfactory peace."

United Nations

ments, two each in Korean, Chinese and English. Then Lee affixed his signature.

When the pact was signed, Lee arose and pressed for a quick renewal of the truce talks.

Daniel replied that he would inform his superiors. The Lee suggested that liaison group meetings should be resumed "within one or two days to discuss and decide on the date for resuming the plenary sessions."

With that the meeting adjourned. No date was set for another meeting but it appeared likely the UN command would call another session soon.

Human Relations in Industry will present an introductory analysis and appraisal of the social and psychological factors important in human relations in industry and an analysis of the social system that is the factory. Particular attention will be given to such aspects as individual job satisfactions, informal group structure, human aspects of supervision, the bearing of human relations problems on such fields as collective bargaining, labor organization and management organization.

Byrd Says Ammo

said he was confident the new secretary of the army, Robert Stevens, would get results in his department.

Byrd's remarks grew out of a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee inquiry which has revealed there was no real ammunition production in this country until two years after the Korean war began.

Testimony has been given that during this two-year period, the army used reserve stocks left over from World War 2 and seriously depleted these stocks in certain types of shells.

Yesterday Byrd said that, if the military leaders "conducted everything as they have this ammunition shortage, the country can have no confidence of security." Byrd followed this up in his interview by saying there was some excuse for failure to get ammunition production going in the first six months of the war. He conceded at that time there was a general feeling the war would be a short one.

Then he added: "But after the Chinese Communists entered the war in November, 1950, there was no excuse anywhere. Gen. Douglas MacArthur himself warned 'this is a new war.'"

Says All to Blame

He noted that former Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett and former Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr. both testified they were not aware of a critical ammunition situation until October, 1951—11 months after the Chinese entered the conflict.

"All of them are to blame," Byrd added. When asked whom he meant, he said the former secretaries and the military people responsible for ammunition production.

In September, 1950, General George C. Marshall was named defense secretary. Lovett became deputy the next month. Lovett advanced to secretary after Marshall resigned Sept. 12, 1951.

Reported Daily Shortages

Pace, referring to testimony that he had not seen Gen. James A. Van Fleet's reports of ammunition shortages, said these were merely routine reports by Van Fleet's ammunition or supply officers.

Van Fleet, retired 8th Army commander, had said he reported ammunition shortages almost daily during his 22 months in Korea.

Pace said he wanted to make it clear that Van Fleet reported to his superior in Tokyo—first Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and later Gen. Mark W. Clark. Pace added: "He (Van Fleet) never did or should have sent any reports to Washington."

The subcommittee resumes hearings Monday when the army's chief of ordnance, Maj. Gen. E. L. Ford, will testify along with other officers who had a part in ammunition production.

About 400 billion cigarettes costing about 4 billion dollars are used each year in the United States.

Ellenville Man Escapes; Suffers Minor Lacerations

Antoine Grandmason, 44, of Ellenville, climbed out of his wrecked automobile after it landed in four to six feet of water near Ellenville about 8:10 a. m. today. His only apparent injuries were minor lacerations, according to a state police report.

Trooper Blake Muthig of the Ellenville station after investigating traced the path followed by the automobile.

Traveling west on Route 52, the vehicle struck the guard rail about one mile west of Ellenville, traveled along it a distance, then turned over the rail, skidding along on its top, hit a post, turned back on its wheels, backed down a 50-foot embankment into the creek, then backed another 50 feet along the creek bed.

Grandmason was able to climb from the vehicle himself, after which he was treated for minor lacerations by Dr. Weiss of Ellenville and sent home to dry himself off. Trooper Muthig said, Grandmason was the sole occupant of the car, a 1951 passenger vehicle, which was completely wrecked, the trooper reported.

Woodstock

Village Artists In Whitney Show

New York, April 11 (Special)—The creations of three local artists are represented in the 1953 annual exhibition of the Whitney Museum of American Art, which has opened here with sculptures, watercolors, and drawings by 183 artists throughout the country. The show will continue through May 29.

Konrad Cramer of Woodstock is showing a watercolor called "Portrait of Florence," while Edward Millman, of Woodstock, is represented by a wash drawing entitled "Study For Invasion No. 4." William Pachner, of Woodstock, is exhibiting a watercolor called "Head 1952" and John Taylor of Shady, has a watercolor called "The Nets."

The works were chosen for the show, as were the others, by the staff of the museum. Some of them will be acquired later for the museum's permanent collection.

Noting that modern art predominates in the exhibition, the museum's board explains that it is "because it is unquestionably the leading movement in art today."

Gonzales, Taylor Named

Woodstock, April 11—Two Woodstock artists, both painters in oil, Xavier Gonzales and John Taylor, are included in a group of painters, sculptors, architects, graphic artists and aquarillists elected to associate membership in the National Academy of Design, Wednesday, April 8. Announcement was made by Lawrence Grant White, president of the academy. There was a total of 20 artists in the group, from all parts of the country.

Village Notes

Woodstock, April 11—Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch returned to their home here Friday after spending the winter in Florida.

Miss Alice Lapo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lapo of Shady, is ill at Benedictine Hospital.

Will Meet Tuesday

Woodstock, April 11—The Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, April 14, at 2 p. m., in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church.

The Joiners

The grand master of the Grand Council of the State of New York, Howard L. Adams of Utica, and the Grand Captain of the Guard, Edward L. Flemming, made a surprise visit to Ancient City Council Thursday night and were themselves surprised to find that Ancient City was conferring the first degree on 14 candidates. On Friday night, April 24, Ancient City Council will visit Poughkeepsie Council on the occasion of the homecoming visit of George E. Gunn, district deputy grand master of the Third Cryptic District.

Fleeing Youth Is Shot

Brunswick, Germany, April 11 (AP)—West German police reported today that Communist border guards shot and killed a 17-year-old East German youngster last night as he was trying to flee into West Germany. Another boy accompanying him reached West German territory safely. Police said the shooting occurred near Helmstedt. Soviet soldiers and Communist police were seen cordoning off the scene, they added.

Violins by Stradivarius

The number of violins made by Stradivarius has been estimated from 1,000 to 3,000, with experts reporting at least 325 of these as still in existence.

Ostrich Hides Body, Not Head
Contrary to popular belief, the ostrich, when hiding, conceals his body and leaves only his head exposed so that he may watch movements of his foe.

Snowstorm Hits Parts Of Colorado, Wyoming

Denver, April 11 (AP)—Colorado and Southern Wyoming were in the clutches of a howling snowstorm today.

Airline and bus schedules were disrupted by the spring storm which also was blamed for one Colorado traffic death and numerous other accidents.

Mrs. Harriet Wilson, 65, of Tribune, Kan., was fatally injured Friday night in an accident near Bennett, 28 miles east of Denver. The car skidded on icy U. S. 40 and piled into another automobile.

The snow had piled up 10 inches at Ford Bridge, Wyo.

The heaviest falls reported in Colorado were 7 inches at Akron in the arid eastern portion of the state, 5 inches at Denver and 3 at Colorado Springs.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was slowly spreading southward into New Mexico and eastward into Kansas and the southwest corner of Nebraska.

The storm was blamed on a mass of warm, moist air which moved out of the southeast. It collided with colder air hovering over Colorado and Wyoming and the moisture condensed to form snow.

YMCA News

The scrap drive committee, headed by Lucky Albright, distributed scrap drive leaflets this morning. The drive will be held between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. Saturday, April 18, and will cover an area bounded by Greenkill avenue, Broadway, Clinton avenue and St. James street.

Jim Goines and his Royal Aces will play tonight at the regular YMCA dance for boys and girls of high school age.

The spring tournament in the boy's division ends this weekend with playoffs scheduled to be completed today.

New members of the boy's division are Arthur Short, Thomas English, Robert Peck, Bruce Baisden, Ronald Kuhne, Vincent Joyce and Richard Sharp.

Immortality Is Charged

Fort Payne, Ala., April 11 (AP)—A young Baptist minister charged that "immoral acts" took place at a high school letterman's club initiation here March 23. The Rev. Willis Griffin, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, charged in a letter published in Wednesday's Fort Payne Journal that the acts occurred when eight youths were initiated into the DeKalb County High School Athletic Organization.

Ellenville Man Escapes; Suffers Minor Lacerations

Antoine Grandmaison, 44, of Ellenville, climbed out of his wrecked automobile after it landed in four to six feet of water near Ellenville about 8:10 a. m. today. His only apparent injuries were minor lacerations, according to a state police report.

Trooper Blake Muthig of the Ellenville station after investigating traced the path followed by the automobile.

Traveling west on Route 52, the vehicle struck the guard rail about one mile west of Ellenville, traveled along it a distance, then turned over the rail, skidding along on its top, hit a post, turned back on its wheels, backed down a 50-foot embankment into the creek, then backed another 50 feet along the creek bed.

Grandmaison was able to climb from the vehicle himself, after which he was treated for minor lacerations by Dr. Weiss of Ellenville and sent home to dry himself off. Trooper Muthig said. Grandmaison was the sole occupant of the car, a 1951 passenger vehicle, which was completely wrecked, the trooper reported.

Woodstock Village Artists In Whitney Show

New York, April 11 (Special)—The creations of three local artists are represented in the 1953 annual exhibition of the Whitney Museum of American Art, which has opened here with sculptures, watercolors, and drawings by 183 artists throughout the country.

The show will continue through May 29. The snow had piled up 10 inches at Ford Bridge, Wyo.

The heaviest falls reported in Colorado were 7 inches at Akron in the arid eastern portion of the state, 5 inches at Denver and 3 at Colorado Springs.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was slowly spreading southward into New Mexico and eastward into Kansas and the southwest corner of Nebraska.

The storm was blamed on a mass of warm, moist air which moved out of the southeast. It collided with colder air hovering over Colorado and Wyoming and the moisture condensed to form snow.

YMCA News

The scrap drive committee, headed by Lucky Albright, distributed scrap drive leaflets this morning. The drive will be held between 9 a. m. and 1 p. m. Saturday, April 18, and will cover an area bounded by Greenlark avenue, Broadway, Clinton avenue and St. James street.

Jim Goines and his Royal Aces will play tonight at the regular YMCA dance for boys and girls of high school age.

The spring tournament in the boy's division ends this weekend with playoffs scheduled to be completed today.

New members of the boy's division are Arthur Short, Thomas English, Robert Peck, Bruce Baisden, Ronald Kuhne, Vincent Joyce and Richard Sharp.

Immortality Is Charged

Fort Payne, Ala., April 11 (AP)—A young Baptist minister charged that "immortal acts" took place at a high school letterman's club initiation here March 23. The Rev. Willis Griffin, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, charged in a letter published in Wednesday's Fort Payne Journal that the acts occurred when eight youths were initiated into the DeKalb County High School Athletic Organization.
